Village Variety

By CONSTANCE LEWIS... You know, it's funny how you run across news of Birmingham people in such diversified places as pulp magazines and English newspapers...

Last week, Mrs. Lyman Craig showed me a picture of her sister in an English magazine, one who is working in England with the Red Cross. A few days later a lady from Franklin came in and showed me a copy of one of those new streamlined pulp magazines in which an earnest and sincere young Birmingham man is starting out on a literary career with his humor, realistic stories, bright with humor, of people who work in factories...

War Orphans... In the English magazine Mrs. Craig brought in, there is a picture of her sister, Mrs. Ruth Musgrove, formerly of Bloomfield Hills. It shows her in the Red Cross uniform with a badge and a little wide-eyed girl whose arms are full of good things to eat...

Mrs. Musgrove, who has been a member of the Red Cross for 12 years, has been in England since September. When she first arrived, she helped establish the Red Cross traveling centers and the famous Oxford Club, the largest overseas service club. She then became assistant director and eventually director of the Stars and Stripes Orphan Fund. At present, she is touring the British Isles and Ireland for the Harp magazine...

According to an article in a recent issue of Collier's, the War Orphan Fund started last Christmas with a hundred American soldiers playing Santa Claus to the blitzed British kids. The idea was given large amount of publicity by the American Army Newspaper, stars...
