

Fosdick's Latest Added to Shelves Of Public Library

By LINDO-MOORE

Now that your Victory garden is all planned, there might be a chance for some reading, serious or otherwise, before the weeds start growing. The stack of new books at Baldwin Library looks as if it would provide something for every taste and mood.

On Being a Real Person, by Harry Emerson Fosdick. Out of 20 years' experience in dealing with everyday problems, the popular pastor of New York's Riverside Church has written this book designed for the intelligent person struggling to get a better hold on himself and his conscience.

Italy From Within, by Richard Mansook. The rise and decline of Fascism in Italy, written by the chief of the Rome Bureau of the Associated Press. As dramatic as a novel.

Vicky, by Leon Marchal. The former counselor of the French embassy in Washington presents a picture of "two years of deception."

The Peace We Fight For, by Hiram Motherwell. Timely and significant, this is a serious approach to the problems of the hoped for peace and the reconstruction of an inevitably chaotic Europe after the war.

The Enigma of Admiral Darlan, by Alec de Montmorency. An almost sensational book on the "master of the French Navy," who has been hated and admired by both sides.

Pacific Blackout, by John McCutcheon-Raleigh. The grim story of the fall of the Netherlands Dutch Indies. Several chapters on Australia are included.

The Farmer Citizen at War, by Howard R. Tully. The role of the farmer in the war effort and his part in the well being of the nation.

For lighter moments there are several novels and whodunit.

Chicken Every Sunday, by Rosemary Taylor. The hilarious tale of the most fabulous boarding house in the world.

Himself, by Elizabeth Jordan. An unusual character study of a New England woman ends in a zesty finale.

The Forest and the Fort, by Hervey Allen. The adventures of Salsathiel Albine, kidnapped by Indians as a baby, grew up as an Indian and took his part in defending the frontier against Mohawk warriors.

Sports Showup

By RAY DENNIS

Former Bellvue athletes are doing all right for themselves in collegiate circles judging by the records of two former Maple stars, Jo and Frank Armstrong.

Frank is a member of the Rutgers football team, rowing crew who defeated Columbia last week. Frank expects his call to the United States Marine Corps in June.

Brother Jo is winning acclaim also as a light heavy-weight boxer at Washington and Jefferson College. He went through the season with an unblemished record with victories over opponents from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and Carnegie Tech. His coach was Sammy Angott, former world champion light-weight boxer.

Tough competition is in store for the Birmingham track squad when the boys face Pontiac and Dearborn in a meet under the lights at Pines Field, May 7.

Pontiac racked up a lopsided victory over Flint Central last week, copping all but two first places.

Dearborn always has a well-coached team and should be in top form. The Pioneers defeated Plymouth by a wide margin last week.

Birmingham should fare quite well in its tennis campaign this season with three veterans back. Letterman play "Giselle" during the Birmingham city tennis camp.

Glenn White, and Don McCleese, Bob Goldman and Clark Brantley have shown much promise in practice so far.

Zasu Pitts, Starring In 'The Bat' Next At Wilson Theatre

America's first lady of comedy, Zasu Pitts, is coming to the Wilson Theatre, Detroit, starting with matinee next Sunday, May 2, in the famous play "The Bat." The limited engagement of the noted picture star will include performances every evening with matinees Saturday and Sunday. Featured in the cast is the celebrated character actress of stage and screen, Jane Darwell.

Henry Duffy, producer of "The Bat," believes he will have the most popular offering he has ever presented in Detroit. Written by Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood, the combination of thrills and laughs ran for nearly 300 times in New York. It concerns itself with the eerie happenings in a lonely house in which live an elderly spinster, her maid, Lizzie; and her niece, Dale.

Zasu Pitts, whose flattery comedy has endeared her to millions of theatergoers, will have the finest role of her career as the bewittered Lizzie while Jane Darwell, who was awarded an Academy Prize for her portrayal of Ma Joad in "The Grapes of Wrath," will be the middle-aged woman around whom the action revolves. The exceptionally fine Broadway cast will include Lawrence Fletcher, Margaret Callahan, Lowell Gilmore, Frank Lyon, Bert Striber, Brent Sargent, Russell Fillmore and John Holden.

Cranbrook News

By ROBERT WILSON

The season's opener in Cranbrook baseball took place last Saturday afternoon in a contest between Day-boys and Boarders. The latter, behind by steady pitching of Don Taylor, pounded out a 5-3 victory. Perfect baseball weather was on hand and the game was umpired by Grba and B. N. Coulter, coach of the squad. Thurman Holloway, hurler for last year's varsity team, delivered the first pitch.

The speaker was privileged to furnish author and playwright, Mr. Strong spoke in behalf of the concerning the Seeing Eye Dog Foundation, and vividly described his experiences in the training school at Morris-town, N. J. He presented a reel on the school and the dog. Later, a feature movie, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," was shown.

Music Festival At Pontiac Saturday

Birmingham is sending 49 students to a tri-town Solo and Ensemble Music Festival at Pontiac High School Saturday. Oxford will be the third participant.

William Bevell, U. S. band director, and Roy Underwood, Michigan State music director, will be the adjudicators. Elementary students are under the direction of Mrs. Enid Harris; Junior and senior musicians have been coached by Arnold W. Berndt. The public may attend any or all of the all-day sessions.

Walled Lake Park To Open Saturday

Walled Lake Park will be open Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week and will be in daily operation starting Friday, May 7. The park has been completely re-decorated and renovated and is now ready to take care of the many thousands that will visit this popular resort throughout the summer season. Facilities for taking care of picnic groups are almost unlimited. The management reports a large number of picnics already booked amongst schools, churches and industrial plants.

FINAL INSPECTION:

Make sure it's right with good light

INSPECTION has always been an important step in production. But in war work—where a soldier's life may depend on the accuracy of machined parts and the absence of flaws in a gun or shell or tank or engine part—inspection is doubly important. Final inspection must make sure that the product is RIGHT—and that no defective parts or workmanship are allowed to go out of the plant.

The more precise the work, the more critical the inspection—and the greater the need for GOOD LIGHT to help detect imperfections. Besides finding "rejects" when the work is finished, inspection helps to prevent losses by catching flaws early, as the work goes along. Periodic inspection saves wasted man-hours and reduces spoilage.

Good light for inspection is "tailored" to the needs of the specific job. What is satisfactory lighting for one job may be wholly inadequate for another. For example, inspection may involve the internal structure of a piece, or its composition. It may involve surface contour, or color and finish. In each case there is a particular kind of lighting to assure best results. Our industrial Lighting Advisors will be glad to discuss any lighting problem you may have, and study your requirements. They will then submit recommendations without charge. Call any Detroit Edison office. The Detroit Edison Company.
