

Gives Three Rules For Fire Safety

Fire Chief V. W. Griffith today urged a spring offensive against home fires on the ground that impede the war effort just as much as fires in war plants. He outlined three fundamentals of fire safety—good housekeeping, regular inspection and repair, and speed in reporting and attacking a fire.

"Every dwelling fire destroys materials that are becoming more difficult to replace," the Chief said.

The Chief then outlined three fundamentals for fire safety:

1. Good housekeeping: Dispose of or salvage all combustible

"Iron" in attics, cellars, and closets. Do not leave gasoline in house, or use it or other volatile flammable liquids for dry cleaning. Burn or dispose of oil and paint in tightly closed metal containers.

2. Repair: Have heating plants and stove cleaned and repaired. Have the chimney flues cleaned regularly. Inspect all electrical appliances, wiring, and electrical frayed cords.
3. Fire-fighting: Teach every member of the family how to fight in a fire alarm. Keep fire fighting equipment in good condition, and make sure it is kept where it is readily available.

Houses Are Sought For Multi-Family Conversion by U. S.

In Detroit, and other industrial centers throughout the country, the Federal Government is offering the owners of houses and other properties suitable for conversion into extra-family accommodations a two-fold opportunity. The Government is asking such persons to lease their properties to Uncle Sam as a war workers' residence. They perform an outstanding patriotic service, while making a legitimate profit for themselves.

The leasing program is in the hands locally of the War Housing Center, operated by the Detroit Housing Commission. Headquarters are at 305 West Fort Street and the telephone number is CA 6373.

Buildings wanted are those which can be converted into extra-family dwellings, located in districts where the zoning laws will permit conversion, and within reasonable transportation distance of war plants. The Government will lease the structures found suitable, remodel them at its own expense and return them to the owners after the war. The owners will not only be adequately compensated for the use of their buildings, but will get back income-producing properties. They also will be permitted to occupy one of the units in the converted structure if they desire to do so.

Dealers to Give "Point Invoices"

All dealers in foods covered by the meats and fats rationing program have been advised by OPA to give "point invoices" along with their customary dollar and cents invoices for products sold.

(This may be used also on any variety of tree which is damaged if by branches over one inch in diameter have been pruned off.) Give your Birmingham city trees proper maintenance to grow and bloom!

NEW GARDEN BOOK

Twenty minutes a day? That's all it takes to create a flourishing vegetable garden that will produce enough toothsome vegetables for a family of four all summer, with enough left over for canning storage. Sounds like a fairy tale, but it's true. Buy the new book, Grow Your Own Vegetables. This book, written by Paul Dempsey's book, Grow Your Own Vegetables. Know the Endorser In Cashing Checks

"Know Your Endorser." This is the slogan of the United States Secret Service in its program of education, urging the public to be on guard against the forgery of Government checks.

Millions of dependents of American soldiers and sailors receive monthly allowances in the form of Government checks. Millions receive Social Security and other Government checks issued for pensions, services and other purposes. When checks are stolen and forged, those who are entitled to them may suffer many hardships, while the victims suffer losses.

Burning of Grass Called Unwise

Burning of grass and marsh lands on Michigan farms after April 20 will destroy nests of cottontail rabbits, pheasants, quail and other ground nesting birds. Thousands of acres of land are burned each spring by farmers. This practice is wasteful, says B. G. Hill, Michigan State College farm game extension specialist. Such fires destroy organic matter and frequently kill annual grasses, allowing less desirable perennials to grow. Fires also burn off fence posts and damage the galvanized protection on wire fencing so that rusting occurs. Even buildings are sometimes destroyed, when fires get out of control.

Church Will Dedicate Service Flag Sunday

A special feature of the worship service of the First Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning will be the dedication of the service flag which has been unfurled in honor of the men and women of the church who are now serving in the armed forces, the names to be listed in the church bulletin.
