

Kindly Deliver to a FIRST CLASS MALE

MAYBE you're both too busy to have spent much time together lately—but Christmas is the time to revive every sentiment you've ever shared. How better can you please a man than with a gift of clothing that's comfortable and fits in with his life—his needs. A gift to buffet winds and cold while he's on the job—or at his battle station. A gift to soothe him with at-home comfort when the day is done. We have so many suggestions, you'll be chiding yourself for having worried about what to give him. Anything you give him from here will long warm his person and heart—and bring you closer together in spirit, if not in time, and space!
