Miss McCallum Weds Lt. Smith In Church Chapel

Margaret Agnes McCallum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander McCallum, of Detroit, became the bride of Lt. Frederick

Mrs. Frederick Bradford Smith, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Smith, of North Adams road, last Friday night at 8 p. m.

The ceremony was read in the chapel of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Detroit, by the Rev. B. M. Levering. Frank Benton, cousin of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin with full skirt and sweeping train. It had a cloverleaf waist and long sleeves which tapered at the wrists; the neckline was heart shaped. Her tulle veil was fingertip length. She held in place by a halo of seed pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls which were worn by her mother at her wedding and carried an arm bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Margaret's only attendant was Manola Myers, of Port Huron, who wore a Nile green lace and chiffon gown, with a Dutch cap of gold sequins. She carried a bouquet of gold and rust chrysanthemums.

The groom's best man was Philip Hopkins, of Birmingham, and the ushers were Edward Watkins of Utica, and Arthur Harrover, of Birmingham.

Mrs. McCallum was gowned in powder blue crepe with rhinestone bodice trim, a hat of matching plumes and veiling, and a corsage of sweetheart roses. The groom's mother wore a Mainbocher model of duobonnet lace with a transparent net yoke and drop shoulders; a gold feather head dress and a green orchid corsage.

Immediately following the reception at the Wardell-Sheraton, the newly-weds left on a short wedding trip, the bride wearing a chaste rose wool dress, brown hat and accessories and a brown Adams road, last Friday night at 8 p. m.

The bridegroom will return to his station at Camp Beale, Calif., on Dec. 12.
