

FACTS and THAT BY G. R. A.

(Continued from Page One) education of the general public in such forms of commerce and industry as might properly be developed. Local people should be trained as teachers, major and minor executives as rapidly as possible. All should be assured independence within the World State, upon reaching certain internal standards and by fixed dates as soon as same can intelligently be determined. Economic security might be advanced through a world-wide currency based on gold and through a system of international tariffs to be determined by relative wage scales in the several countries. Thus highly paid American, Australian, New Zealand and Canadian labor would be protected against pauper wages of other countries. As wage scales rise in these countries, tariff walls would go down proportionately. Patents should be internationalized. There would have to be many readjustments. Perhaps the Chinese will grow better wheat production than Americans or the Japanese better rice. The United States must be developed in which we are able to do in a spirit of freedom.

At no stage of the development should any nation or group of nations attempt to be a Super Power for any part of the world. Rather they should serve as other laborers, seeking diligently to better themselves. They must be able to glimpse the vision of the future. If we do, we can down the burdens of the present. We must be able to take up again the bloody garment of War. THAT MUST NOT BE.

U. S. Needs Training We Americans are no more prepared for this enormous task of peace than we were in 1938 for the fighting. We are not. When the fighting is over, we will be very, very weary and the urge for peace will be so powerful as the urge for preparation. So we must glimpse the vision of the future. If we do, we can down the burdens of the present. We must be able to take up again the bloody garment of War. THAT MUST NOT BE.

We will need teachers to carry on the torch of the future. We will need teachers to carry on the torch of the future. We will need teachers to carry on the torch of the future. We will need teachers to carry on the torch of the future. We will need teachers to carry on the torch of the future.

These problems are practical, having to do with crime, with housing, industry, transportation, labor, communications and finance. Therefore they do not lead themselves to visionary schemes of the West and other New Deal types, but of hard bitten men of the world. Our fighting Army will graduate a vast class of such qualified citizens. We at home must train and send out the rest. If we fail, the Four Freedoms will follow the Fourteen Points into oblivion.

Nine Little Dependents Left Behind

When papa Ervin I. Wenrich, Jefferson Township, Pa., signed up with the Navy Seabees, he left nine little kiddies at home. Their ages are 2, 3, 3, 6, 7, 9, 10, 11 and 12. As a first-class fireman, Wenrich, 34 years old, receives $78 a month, of which $22 goes to his wife, Margaret, second from right. Under new dependency rates, she receives a total of $120 a month. The family is shown in front of their 1 1/2-story frame bungalow, on the 40-acre farm of Wenrich's mother.

FACTS

(Continued from Page One) "It is important to remember," warned Mrs. McCutcheon, "if the members of your family have large appetites, you will do well to look over the schedule carefully, and budget your coupons to get the most food with them. It will probably be especially noticeable when meat rationing comes along, when much more of the less desirable cuts of the more desirable cuts can be gotten with the same coupon."

Question 5. Will the new ration book replace the present straight coupon system for sugar, coffee and gasoline? Answer: No. These items will continue to be sold as individual items with the old coupon books. Question 6. What is to prevent hoarding of processed foods between now and the time rationing begins? Answer: A declaration of the amount of these foods on hand will be asked from each person before a ration book is issued, and coupons will be deducted for the amounts on hand. Heavy penalties are provided for any applicant making a false declaration.

WALT DISNEY'S "DUMBO" AT THE BIRMINGHAM THIS SATURDAY MATINEE

"What on earth has a battleship got to do with my shopping?"

JACK: Plenty, Mom... plenty! They tell me down at the Navy yard almost everything that goes into making those babies is cooked with Gas. MOTHER: Cooked? What do you mean cooked... JACK: Heat-treated... to give the metal proper toughness. For instance, Gas cooks armor plate so it will shake off big shells and not shatter under gunfire. And the steel for tanks, gun planes and bombs... they're all cooked with Gas! MOTHER: But why Gas? JACK: Why Gas? You ought to know... because it saves time and money making a battleship—just as it saves you time and money cooking a meal!
