"EVEN MY HUSBAND ADMITS I USED MY HEAD!" "Honey, Jim said to me the other night, 'you sure were smart when you chose our Servel. Picking the one refrigerator with no moving parts was a stroke of genius. We know that it will last us for the duration 'cause it has no moving parts in its freezing system to wear or need replacement. And it's been mighty economical' to run, too." "Of course Jim was right about our Servel. With food such a problem these days, it's a real comfort to know we'll be able to take proper care of what we do get. But Jim was wrong about me. Naturally I didn't say anything—but I actually chose a Servel Gas Refrigerator in the first place because it didn't make any noise!" Whatever your original reason for selecting a Servel Electrolux Gas Refrigerator, you can be doubly glad you've got one today. For you're assured low-cost, trouble-free noiseless refrigeration for the duration, and a long time after.

Consumers Power Co.

"The power men—public and private in this area and throughout the country—should be proud of the job that they have never been doing. The power supply. Power has never been so little or too little. There is sharp contrast to the situation as to more of a single instance in which the operation of a war plant has been delayed by lack of electric power supply."

Electric power is playing an important role in the nation's war production. This country alone has more horsepower than the combined total of all our enemies. Here in Detroit and southeastern Michigan, the power supply of The Detroit Edison Company totals more than a million-and-a-half horsepower. More than half of this enormous power pool is being used directly in war production. During 1942, power for war production totaled over TWO BILLION kilowatt-hours.

The combined generating capacity of all Detroit Edison power plants totals 1,655,000 horsepower. Insofar as one can be sure of anything in time of war, there should be no shortage of electricity in this section, and all war plants will continue to get electric power to meet peak production. The Detroit Edison Company.

"ELECTRICITY IS NOT RATIONED. BUT ITS PRODUCTION REQUIRES COAL AND RAILROAD TRANSPORTATION. DON'T WASTE IT!"
