GIRL SCOUTS

ATTENTION, GIRL SCOUTS!
The 80 Girl Scouts who are attending the Day Camp at Springdale Park this week are making many worthwhile articles, as well as having a good time. The camp opened Monday morning at 9 o'clock and that day "sit ons" were made to be used, the rest of the week. A "sit on" is an oil cloth pillow, stuffed with paper, and secured with bright yarn, completely a yarn loop to carry it with.

The girls are also making tables to use around the campfire and broilers made of sticks for a cook out, which they hope to have each day. Mrs. Robert F. Kohn, who has charge of the food, has spent many hours planning and purchasing the materials for these noon time meals.

All of the craft work is done with the central theme of nature study this year. Grass buttons, neckties and nature pictures which the girls are making will be part of the study. Games and folk dancing are being taught and supervised by Mrs. Charles B. Kass.
