

Need Volunteers For Stamp Sales

Tuesday morning Mrs. Gardner M. Cobb, chairman of the AWWS bond and stamp organization, met with Mrs. Robert Q. Bruce, Mrs. Thomas Anderson and Mrs. J. J. Pardo, heads of the theatre bond selling staffs, to make plans for theatre selling during the summer.

It was found that there is an urgent need for volunteers to sell at the theatre booths since several people have left town or obtained jobs elsewhere. Recently two new volunteers have been added to the theatre staffs: Miss Jane Hyde and Mrs. Howard S. Rinder.

Any girls home from school or college or women interested in helping out at the theatre booths on Saturdays and Sundays may telephone the Defense Service Center, 4014.

The following AWWS members have been placed on the theatre honor roll for May: At the Birmingham Theatre, Mrs. Violet Brennan gave 1 1/2 hours and sold $341.55 in bonds and stamps. Mrs. P. Tobin received honors for the largest amount sold, $1,153.30. Junior honors go to Kitty Keller, Barbara Foster, Velma Keogh and Mary La Brangrave who sold a total of $324.55. At the Bloomfield Theatre, Miss Olive Dickson tops the list with $346.60 in bonds and stamps, with Mrs. Thomas Anderson and Mrs. Shirley Myers as runners-up. Junior honors at this theatre go to Charlotte Ladner with $76.55 to her credit.

Mr. and Mrs. Burnham are making their home in Birmingham for the present, after which they will move to Clawson.

Women in Service

A Real Chance for Advancement Until recently a woman was required to have a college degree, or two years of college and two years business experience, to be qualified to become an officer in the Waves. Recently it was announced that Waves and Spars, without college degrees, could apply for officers' training. Commanding officers will recommend enlisted Waves or Spars on the basis of their general bearing, executive ability and leadership qualities. Any woman can apply to become an officer after six months of service. Women, 20 to 36 years of age, with at least two years of high school, can get started on a career in the Navy by applying at any Navy Recruiting station.

HOSPITAL APPRENTICE

GREAT LAKES, Ill. Sara Willey, of 765 Pilgrim, Birmingham, a member of the Waves, reported at the U. S. Naval Hospital here recently after completing a four-week course of indoctrination at Hunter College, Bronx, N. Y. She is a hospital apprentice, second class.

Miss Willey, daughter of A. J. Willey, Batavia, Ohio, was graduated from Lakewood High School, Lakewood, Ohio, in 1925. Miss Willey was employed for 15 years as laboratory technician and office manager with Dr. H. H. Sick and associates, Cincinnati, prior to her enlistment in the Waves in February. Miss Willey and other Waves are students in the Naval Hospital's Nursing School, where they will train for four weeks.
