"A PLEASURE"

One of the sheer joys of life is the possession of things which make for the comfort and beauty of one's surroundings. After all, it's these things which add up to become the very hall-mark of one's home. Thus it is wise to choose them carefully and well, in order that they blend with each other; and are each of themselves worthy of possession.

Have you been in to see the new things for the home which we have for Spring?
