Setting Of Spring Flowers For Parkyn-Farmer Rites

Before a gay, spring setting of yellow snapdragons, daffodils, iris, and narcissi, augmented with palms and tall candelabra, Faith Parkyn and Ensign Donald Farmer, USCG, exchanged their wedding vows Saturday. The Rev. Charles C. Becker, Methodist minister, officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy J. Parkyn, of Smith street. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Farmer, of East Orange, N. J.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory satin gown with a lace yoke in the fitted bodice ending in a small rolled collar. The sleeves were bracelet-length and the full skirt ended in a train.

From a tiara of tiny seed pearls, yards of filmy lace net fell. The veil had been worn by the bridegroom's mother at her wedding. The bridal bouquet was made up of white carnations, white buddleia, and vitis.

Wears Ice Blue Taffeta

Mary Grace Ogden, of Chicago, formerly of Birmingham, was maid of honor. She wore an ice blue taffeta gown with fitted bodice, bouffant skirt, and sweetheart neckline. Yellow imitation roses with shoulder-length blue veiling made the headdress. She carried a bouquet of daffodils and iris.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. David Boyd, of Pinconning, Peggy Glassing, of Detroit, Betty Houseworth, of Birmingham, and Carolyn Sterns, of Erie. Their dresses and headdresses were made similar to the maid-of-honor's in taffeta. Miss Glassing and Miss Sterns wore daffodil yellow and carried colonial bouquets of wine colored carnations.

Mrs. Boyd and Miss Houseworth wore hyacinth blue and carried colonial bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Brother Unable to Attend

Alfred Broome, of Detroit, acted as best man and Ronald Warner, of Imlay City, seated the guests. Richard L. Farmer was to have been his brother's best man and Bill Bliss was to have come from New Jersey to act as an usher, but they were unable to attend.

Howard Tuggey sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Mrs. Parkyn chose a dusty rose crepe dress with navy accessories and gardenia corsage for her daughter's wedding.

Mrs. Farmer, who with her husband, came down from New Jersey for the wedding, also wore dusty rose crepe. She wore a matching hat with blue veiling and gardenias.

The reception for 80 guests was held in the church parlors that were decorated with candelabra and palms. The table was centered with a tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature sailor and bride.

The new Mrs. Farmer left with her husband for a short trip, wearing a soldier blue dress under a black coat with black accessories. She wore gardenias on her shoulder.

Following the honeymoon, she will return to Almont, Mich., where she is a home economics teacher. Ensign Farmer will return to his duties as instructor of mathematics at the Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn., where his wife will join him in June. Both are graduates of Michigan State.
