

AAUW Book Sale Is Huge Success

The annual A. A. U. W. Book Sale, now going full tilt in the store next to Kresge's on North Woodward avenue, is shattering all records, with $540 taken in Monday and Tuesday, the first two days of the week-long sale. Considering the average purchase to be about 10c—that represents a lot of business—and a lot of work by the women at the helm, who are letting their work pile up at home to make this Book Sale a success.

Mrs. Hugh McLeese, chairman of sales, is on deck every day, while Mrs. Ralph Partridge, chairman of equipment, is putting in long woman-hours at her job of keeping the books in order.

There are whole tables full of fiction books, detective stories, children's books, and volumes of poetry. There are stacks of "Fortune" and "Life" and "National Geographic" magazines. "Martin Grawlewit" by Charles Dickens can be had for 10c, as can "Green Mansions" by Hudson.

Have you always wanted that book by Sinclair Lewis, Lloyd Douglas, Hugh Walpole? Take your pick. A good shelf-full can be had for a dollar bill.

All kinds of people are coming in to paw through the rows: a student jubilant over a book on Sales Management, a $5 book which set him back all of 15c; a blond three-year-old, equally jubilant over his set of dishes—for a penny; a woman bringing in some books in a cause, treading out another happy for her seen child.

A good Book Sale; a good cause.

Cranbrook Beats Oxford High 26-6

In the second game of the season, played last Friday, October 8th, at the Cranbrook Stadium, the Cranes were victorious over the Oxford High School eleven, 26 to 6.

One of the most spectacular plays of the game was that of Bill Kuntz of Cranbrook who intercepted a forward pass and ran to the Oxford 3 yard line, where he was about to be stopped. Turning quickly, he lateralled to Whiting who proceeded for a touchdown.

The first tally for the Cranes was rained over by Charles Welch, the Cranes' star fullback. Larry Tucker, shifty halfback, went over for the second touchdown from two yards out. John Eden kicked the two extra points.

Larry Tucker went over for the fourth period, after a 45-yard Cranbrook drive had put the ball on the one yard line. Tomorrow at 3:30 P.M., the Cranes play Milford High School.
