

Sometimes I wonder just how personal most people take this present war. Deep within most people is the willingness to be patriotic by making personal sacrifices; like water in a deep well, they need some exemplary device that will reach down into their very hearts and bring up latent goodness.

Adjacent To Cranbrook

THE SITUATION of this attractive residence leaves nothing to be desired—and the structure itself is TOPS.

THE living room—high ceiling and of EXCELLENT PROPORTIONS—opens on to a broad SCREENED TERRACE. A wide WINDOW BAY in the dining room—fireplace here also—overlooks the grounds. The kitchen is SPICK and SPAN—STOVE and REFRIGERATOR included—and the FIRST FLOOR LAUNDRY is what you have always wanted.

THE master's suite comprises a SLEEPING ROOM with three exposures—DRESSING ROOM with fireplace—bath and clothes CLOSET. Two other bedrooms with bath between—will accommodate TWIN BED SUITES. Servant's quarters and storage in GREAT PLENTY complete the second floor.

MAGNIFICENT broad limbed oaks stand guard over THE KNOLL and protect the property from the extravagances of summer and winter alike. Truly—there is so much to tell about this BIG-LITTLE house—that we want you to see it—appointments to suit you.

Bits of Birmingham

Our State Liquor Store manager has had kind of an unruly column so we'll enter it here with the Bits of Birmingham and hope our caller considers this the "tid-bit" column.

Saw a couple of advertisements in an old Eccentric the other day.—"For Sale—an upright piano, the property of a young lady with silk scarf and carried legs.—"A bull terrier two years old, will eat anything, very fond of children. If interested apply at this office." Although these were printed in the Eccentric in 1893, they were not originally Eccentric material.

The Baldwin P.T. A. is very anxious to secure some ping pong tables to be put in Room 107. This room is used for the noon time recreation period and the ping pong tables would add to the enjoyment of the children.

The local ration board, which has been using an old fashioned coal stove for heating the office, has that stove in the furnace going, but they have become so attached to the stove that it is still reposed in the middle of the office.

Mrs. A. L. Genung, chief clerk of the local ration board, impressed local exchange with the seriousness of the rubber and gas rationing programs at their luncheon Tuesday.

The Rotary Club had its second Detroit speaker in two weeks Monday when it heard J. King Harris, president of the Rotary Club of Detroit.

Mrs. R. J. Greenwood, who is an O.C.D. Block Captain in Detroit, phoned Mrs. Martin A. Wendell, who was the instigator of the comic book drive which is now under way, and informed her that Girl Scouts and a young group of girls, that have been writing to children in rural England, are going to aid in the project.

Women who are still painting their home on had better start putting two coats on—it's getting colder.

For the first time in several months the Society Page is again a wedding or engagement story. Could it be that the male shortage has finally hit Birmingham? Although June is the month for Brides, while looking over past issues, we noticed that the Fall season seemed to be a good time to fall in love. They say that the war is increasing marriages but not from the looks in this week's paper. Why, we didn't even have a marriage license to publish!

It was Merlin Smiley of Barnum Junior High who made the frame for the BOM'S CLUB service men's bulletin board in the Wilson Drug Store. Remember to keep Mrs. R. L. Fletcher supplied with names of men and women on leave and events of interest to them for posting on this board.

and motion picture by John H. Storer will be presented at the Cranbrook Institute of Science tomorrow evening, October 22. The pictures in this film story have much of the breath-taking beauty that has won an international reputation for Mr. Storer's bird films, according to Dr. Robert Hatt, Director of the Institute. Admittance to the lecture is by ticket.

Army, Navy Tests Nov. 9 For 17 Yr. Olds

The second qualifying test for the Army's Specialized Training Program and the Navy College Program Nov. 12, which will be held throughout the country on Nov. 9 will be given both at Baldwin High School and the Cranbrook School, Bloomfield Hills, on that day.

A pamphlet of general information which contains an admission-identification form may be obtained at either school office. This form properly filled out will admit to the test students between the ages of 17 and 21 inclusive who are recent high school graduates or who will be graduated by March 1, 1944. Intent to take the test should be made known immediately to either school in order that the necessary test supplies may be ordered.

The same examination will be taken by both Army and Navy candidates. The examination is designed to test the aptitude and general knowledge required for the program of college training and all qualified students are urged to take the test. At the time of the test, each candidate will be given a choice of service preference, but taking the test does not obligate the candidate to enlist in the service.

The Army Specialized Training Program enable students to continue academic training at government colleges or universities and into the armed services. Successful completion of the prescribed courses, followed by further officer training, lead to a commission in the Army or the Navy.

Those selected by the Army will, after further screening and basic military training, be sent to colleges. Students chosen for the Navy Program, after selection by the Office of Naval Procurement, will be detailed directly to colleges under the program will be under military discipline on active duty in uniform with pay. All expenses, including tuition, food, housing, books, and uniforms will be paid by the Army or the Navy.

ored prints in flowered patterns, which undoubtedly serve their dual purpose to the perfect satisfaction of the housewife who is thrifty enough and clever enough to bake bread for her family and make aprons for herself or play clothes for her little girl out of the sack the flour came in.

Due to the acute shortage of children's toys the Sisters of Charity at the Sarah Fisher home are asking for discarded children's toys a special appeal for velocipedes and toy furniture. Articles can be made as good as new in the repair shop at the Home. Anyone having such articles can telephone at the Lawrence Hertz, Lincoln 2-3049 and arrangements will be made to pick them up.

One of our printers, R. B. Pomeroy, on his way to breakfast Wednesday morn, found a woman's brown tam, of corduroy with two feathers on the sidewalk at the southwest corner of Maple and Woodward. He propped it against the water fountain and returned when he passed again coming to work, so he brought it with him. Owners of identical tam in the Eccentric composing room.

The Hunting Season Is Open

If you are a hunter or a fisherman you will appreciate the protection afforded your equipment by our new Residence and Outside First policy.

This new policy covers everything you take with you on a hunting or fishing trip: guns, rods, reels, boots, clothes and other equipment against loss by burglary and theft, which includes mysterious disappearance. If you own deer, which deer you think you shot of the fact that a fish may steal, but it covers just about everything else.

This isn't merely a vacation or travel policy. It protects the contents of your home while you're away on your trip—and during the other 50 weeks of the year. It protects your wife's pocketbook against purse snatchers and your children's bicycles and toys. Fast on, it covers just about everything you own including $100 in money and $500 in securities (but excludes animals and automobiles) anywhere in the Western Hemisphere. The premium is exceptionally low—only $10 annually for $1,000 coverage or $25 for three years. C. Bingham—don't delay.
