

Church Women To Hold Institute

The Birmingham Council of Church Women will hold its Fall Institute Friday, Sept. 24, in the Baptist church.

The Council has procured Dr. Margaret Applegarth as speaker, a woman nationally known in the field of Christian education. Dr. Applegarth is the author of numerous books and her latest work, "Bound in the Bundle of Life," is now being used widely in worship services. She is editor of the monthly magazine, "Discovery," in Brattle, and is also well known as a speaker before clubs, colleges, conventions, and Parent-Teacher organizations.

Dr. Applegarth is a graduate of the University of Rochester, N. Y., and is a Phi Beta Kappa. She holds the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, L. H. A. and will discuss program and program planning in her talk.

Mrs. Matthew Whittlesey, President of the Birmingham Council, extends an invitation to the women of Birmingham and surrounding communities to attend these meetings.

Mary Gray Reads Vows

Mary Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Gray of Vassar St. Hazel Park, became the bride of Jacob Boss, son of Mr. Ed Boss and the late Mrs. Boss of Charlesville, at a wedding in her home last Saturday at 5:30 p. m.

Rev. Kline, pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church of Clawson officiated. The bride was given away by her father.

Mrs. Boss wore a satin gown, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and leg-of-mutton sleeves. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom, and carried roses.

Mrs. Andrew Henderson was her sister's only attendant. She wore a powder blue satin gown and carried pale pink roses.

Oscar Boss of Clawson was his brother's best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gray chose a gown of black satin and wore a corsage of gardenias.

Following the ceremony dinner was served at the Normandy and later a reception for 75 guests was held at the bride's home.

After a week's trip through Canada the couple will be at home at Watking Street.

Stauffer-Fox Nuptials Read Saturday

Harriet Stauffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie D. Stauffer of Sheffield road, became the bride of Lieut. Ralph McIntosh Fox, Medical Corps, USNR, of Bloomington, Ill., son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Fox, at a double ring ceremony read by the Rev. E. Shurey Johnson at 8:10 p. m. Saturday at the First Presbyterian Church in Birmingham.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and the couple spoke the Quaker vows. Professor Rexford Keiser, director of music at Ohio Wesleyan University, played the wedding march.

The bride's personal gown of buchesse satin in a soft ivory tone was made with a molded basque and had a yoke of matching chiffon outlined in a scroll design of seashell pearls. Flat satin bows accented the shoulder line and the skirt fell to a long circular train. The cascade veil was caught to the hair with rosepointe lace, an heirloom which had been worn by the bride's mother and grandmother. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, gladioli, delphinium, and stephanotis.

Alce Stauffer, her sister's maid of honor, wore a dress of Alpine rose satin in DuBarry style. The corsage of the skirt gave a hooped effect and her bouquet was of blue gladioli and orchid-daisy chrysanthemums.

Helen Woolford of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. W. John deGuerre, of Port Credit, Ont.; Mrs. Donald R. Hurst of Skokie, Ill.; and Mrs. Walter S. Fox of Lawrenceville, Ill., were bridesmaids. They wore dresses like the maid of honor's except that they wore Minuet blue in color. Their flowers were gladioli in deep orchid tones, blue delphinium, and yellow chrysanthemums.

P.E.O. Convention Visits Cranbrook

The national convention of P. E. O., which recently held its session in Detroit at the Statler Hotel, with delegates from forty-eight states attending, visited the Cranbrook institutions at Bloomfield Hills, on Sunday.

Due to the war and travel restrictions, the usual large attendance at the convention has been limited to the officers and executive committees, representing 75,000 women throughout the country.

The group gathered at Cranbrook Art Academy, Museum, and Library buildings, and were then escorted to the Cranbrook Institute of Science, Kingswood School, Cranbrook Church, Cranbrook and Christ Church, Cranbrook, and through the grounds and buildings of the Cranbrook School.

After this interesting tour, the group was entertained by Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Lindquist in their home on Academy road.

Red Cross Work Room to Open Soon

Mrs. Robert Ball, of the Red Cross, has announced that the Red Cross work room at Christ Church will be open from 9:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. starting a week from today for surgical dressings and knitting. Lunches will not be provided.

Lieut. Brelsford To Wed Saturday

Charles Brooks, Ann Arbor, announces the marriage of his daughter, Barbara, to Lieut. (j. c.) Clayton Brelsford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Brelsford, of Pilgrim road, next Saturday at 4 p. m. in the Methodist church in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. and Mr. Brelsford and their daughters, Mary and Elizabeth, who will be bridesmaids, will leave tomorrow for the rehearsal dinner.

Theo Club Girls Enjoy Pot-Luck

Fifteen members of the Theo Club attended a pot-luck supper at the home of Virginia and Beverly Johnstone on Woodward Ave. Monday evening. Classical records were played while the members enjoyed a quiet evening knitting. The high-light of the evening was the recital by Lynn Fontaine of the poem "White Cliffs of Dover."

When greens are washed, sand and grit may be removed by lifting the vegetables from a pan of water rather than pouring the water off.

Adams School P.-T. A. To Meet

The first board meeting of the Adams P.T.A. will be held Monday, Sept. 20, at 8:00 p. m. at the school. Members will present plans for the year and discuss programs. Mrs. Garland Tait, new executive, will preside.

ST. PETER'S QUIDD SALE

St. Peter's Guild of St. James Episcopal Church will hold its annual fall rummage sale Thursday and Friday, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, in the church parlors.

Club Notes

The Philathea Class of the Embury Methodist Church will meet with Mrs. Parkyn this evening.

Mrs. F. B. O'Brien, of 165 N. Woodward, celebrated her eighty-third birthday last Tuesday with a luncheon party at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lewis Erb, of Huntington Woods. She was a guest of the William Millers, of Woodward Ave. for tea, and entertained her family and intimate friends in the evening.

Mrs. B. J. Rutten, of 911 Ridgewale, was hostess at a bridge party celebrating the opening of her new bridge club last Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Ewin Harris and Mrs. Edward McCord, of Detroit, were guests. Clever decorations of fruit adorned the three tables and a harvest luncheon was served by Mrs. Rutten.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Judy Strand and Kathryn Trumbull, both of Ridgewale.

MY JIMMY NEEDS YOUR HELP!

Jimmy's over there now, fighting our enemies to keep the Stars and Stripes flying. Before he left, he told me they are going to need more equipment, more ammunition and more food for DIVISION of enemy lands.

"The more bonds the folks at home buy—the more they'll be helping us fighters to win. That's what Jimmy said."

regular bond purchases—many will have to invest thousands!

Don't think that what you do isn't important. It will take all every individual in America can raise to put this 3rd War Loan over the top. So buy more bonds out of your pay—out of extra income—out of "rainy-day" funds!

The quicker you do that the more you'll help Jimmy and our other boys smash through to Victory.

What do you say? It's the safest, soundest investment you'll ever make!

Let's go!
