

He Knows His Manners
A Cockney merchant had made a lot of money and decided to spend some of it on a castle in the Highlands of Scotland. On the first evening, the butler approached him and said: "Would you care to have the pipers at dinner, sir?"

"No, thanks," was the casual reply, "but you can take 'em to the other room, and I'll read 'em later."

How Good can Beer be during a Shortage?

THAT'S A NATURAL QUESTION AND IT DESERVES A STRAIGHT ANSWER.

With prime ingredients restricted as they are today, a brewer has a clear-cut decision to make. He can sacrifice quality through the use of inferior substitutes and maintain his volume . . . or he can keep faith with his customers by supplying them the same quality beer they have learned to enjoy — and sell less beer.

We have given our pledge to you not to change Altes quality. We mean to keep that pledge.

We do this with the full knowledge that we penalize both you and ourselves. You will not be able to get all the Altes you want . . . we will not be able to brew as much Altes as we would like to brew.

We want you to know that not once through all these difficult times will Altes skimp on quality . . . not once will we vary that Aged-in, Scaled-in flavor . . . not once will we fail to properly age every drop of Altes.

The Altes name and reputation . . . its significance of quality to you . . . will not be impaired at any cost!

GIRL SCOUTS

HOME COMING TOMORROW

The Birmingham Girl Scout Leaders Homecoming will be held tomorrow in the Girl Scout Room at the Community House. There will be three sessions planned for all adult workers in Girl Scouting in Birmingham.

The first session, from 10 a. m. until 12 noon, will be a homecoming of all the old workers and an opportunity for them to refresh their knowledge of troop operations. Also troop leaders and committee members will learn about the methods they may employ in operating their branches of the work.

There will be a "nose bag" lunch at 12 noon and at 1:15 p. m. the afternoon session will begin with songs and games. This will be followed by separate brownie, intermediate, senior, and troop committee training, which will close at 3:45 p. m.

For the dinner session Dr. Fritz Redl, Associate Professor of Group Work in the School of Public Affairs at Wayne University, will talk on the Problem of the Adolescent Girl in War Time.

After Dr. Redl's informal talk the meeting will be thrown open to group discussion.

All those who are interested in scouting are invited to attend.

Mrs. C. Elmer Gustafson, of Saratoga boulevard, returned last week from a month's vacation visiting her mother, Mrs. John Lind, of Jamestown, N. Y. John Winzell, age five, a nephew returned with her and will remain a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Laxman, of Sunset boulevard, returned recently from a three weeks' vacation spent on a dude ranch in Montana. Their son, Jimmie, was an enthusiastic about riding as were his parents, often spending several hours at a stretch in the saddle.

Major O. H. Loomis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Loomis, of Lathrup boulevard, was recently transferred to the 23 Air Depot Group at Blythe, Calif. In a recent letter to his parents he stated that the "rumor" that he is "in 13 degrees on the shady side of the desert barracks and inside their quarters" is not 13 degrees.

Somehow the Girl Scout news escaped this column last week. Our apologies to them. The George Motters' were hosts to 15 Girl Scouts for several days the latter part of the month at their summer home at Strawberry Lake. The report is that a wonderful time was given them, and that the chaperones were "the best ever." Mrs. Willard Alexander, and Miss Sally Willard, arrived in "Our Daily Matter." The Scouts wish it made known that they will continue to collect waste fats and milk and nylon hoses. Please call Southfield 3034.

Bowling season opened Sept. 10, at the Palm Beach Recreation, on Northwestern, Meyers and Michigan. Play began at 6:30. Lathrup Township League has 16 teams. Small fry conversation at our dinner table. "Granny you are a delicious cook." Breakfast article. "Grandma I ain't got no doughnut." To which I replied, "Frankie your grammar is poor." And then he said, "Are you Grandma?"—then you can have my pennies."

Revenge
The lady was visiting the aquarium. "Can you tell me whether I could get a live shark here?" she asked an attendant.
"A live shark? What could you do with a live shark?"
"A neighbor's cat has been eating my goldfish, and I want to teach him a lesson."

Franklin Community Church Sunday, Sept. 13, the Franklin Church was rededicated. Victory Garden Fair
The Victory Garden Fair was a great success. Everyone who entered seemed to have something of superlative quality as everyone was awarded a prize. Many a tomato and potato were given a going over by the judge, Ruth Mosher Place, of the Detroit News. Everyone seemed to enjoy seeing their summer's effort, displayed in neat and attractive arrangements.

Franklin Community Library
More new books have arrived at the library. For Franklin's mystery lovers a book entitled "The Female of the Species." This book is a collection of stories of great women detectives and criminals and is edited by Ellery Queen. Then we have Daphne du Maurier's latest novel, "The Hungry Hill." And finally, "Our Daily Bread" by Enrique Gil Gilbert. This book was awarded honorable mention in The Latin-American Prize. Not so new but one of the best is "Life in a Putty Knife Factory" by H. Allen Smith. If you want a laugh or I might say a consolation here is the book for you. Some books for pre-school children are also new in the shelves.
