Opening Paragraph to Spring

As is true in life itself, it is the little things which are so important in your home a moment's reflection will convince you of it. A new vase, a new leather wastebasker for the living room, a beautiful new lamp to replace the one you have been tooking at long enough. New things, big little important things; they work magic in a room.

There's a sparkling new treshness about the things we have for your home this Spring-and will be a pleasure to have you come in early. Remember that in gifts for the home, just as in new fashions in clothes, half the joy is in having them early!
