"Night Must Fall" To Climax The Village Players Season

"Night Must Fall," a murder melodrama by Elnora Williams, is the play chosen by the Birmingham Village Players to bring their current season to a close. It will be presented to players and their guests Friday and Saturday evenings, April 28 and 29. George Dweilley is directing, the play assisted by Mrs. Cyril B. Lewis. Properties have been placed in charge of Mrs. Richard Wenzel, and Mrs. William Lambert and Mrs. Arthur Ulrich will work with her. Miss Jane Jordan will hold the play. The play is an excellent example of the English type of horror plot. A prelude to the actual story is set in a London court (the actual scenes), in which Partridge, Holt will play the part of Lord Chief Justice. The main action is staged in the sitting room of Mrs. Brampton's cottage in Essex. Mrs. Brampton will be portrayed by Mrs. George Dweilley and the other parts have been assigned as follows: Olivia Grayna, played by Mrs. M. W. Cochran; Hubert Laurie, by Walter Hendrich; Nurse Libby, Mrs. Irene Murphy; Mrs. Terence, Mrs. Ellen Kinch; Don Parkie, Mrs. Richard Hawkins; Inspector Bellisai, David Ballentine; Dan, Robert Wyatt. A recital which will be played during the performance has been made for the occasion by Mrs. Dweilley and Carleton Scott.
