Anchoresses Coming To Entertain MOMS Club

The MOMS club of this city is anticipating one of its most enjoyable programs of the year when it meets at the Community House on the evening of Thursday, April 13, for a brief business session and entertainment. Coming to give the entertainment will be the Detroit Anchoresses, a group of about 35 girls sponsored by Miss Prudence Butterfield.

The group will be brought here by car, with the transportation cared for by a patriotic Detroit. The Anchoresses number about 110 members and are organized into entertaining groups to visit hospitals, and more especially military hospitals where they entertain the sick and wounded service men, and do special war work.

Mrs. Guy Jensen, MOMS club president, states that she generally is in uniform, and that she does not smoke, drink, chew gum, or use language unbecoming a lady, and must in general be willing and capable of assuming responsibility. All of the Anchoresses have daytime jobs, but in the evenings they sell bonds and stamps, work in the Foreign Service Department of the Red Cross, do emergency clerical work for the Army and Navy, or assist in the Red Cross Campaign.

There is no charge at all but the Anchoresses which might prove of interest locally. An applicant must be between 17 and 20 years; she must have a letter from her spiritual adviser and one other character reference, have her birth certificate proving she is a United States citizen, be a high school graduate, and have a brother, husband, father or other relative in the service.

One application is accepted, the girl agrees while in uniform, not to smoke, drink, chew gum, or use language unbecoming a lady, and must in general be willing and capable of assuming responsibility.
