Make Plans Now For Fall Garden, Urges Victory Garden Head

If the Victory gardener seeks variety in his summer job of combating weeds and insects and is hoping for rain, let him plant fall garden, suggests Charles Rust, Birmingham's Victory Garden committee chairman.

For best results, fall garden planting should be done by August 15 in the lower peninsula. Crops that are especially adapted for summer planting, to be harvested in the fall, are radishes, lettuce, spinach, kohi rabi, mustard, and turnips. If desired, beets may be sown to be harvested for their green tops.

Some of these crops are fairly frost-resistant and may be harvested until late in the fall.

If the soil is so dry that there is doubt that the seed will germinate, Rust suggests making the required number of furrows in the usual way and then soaking the soil in the furrow before sowing the seed.

To give fall crops a boost, add a Victory garden type fertilizer, even though the ground has received an application earlier in the season.

Hazel A. Coady and Melvin Groves Exchange Vows

Barbara Jean Coady wore aqua taffeta and carried the two rings in the middle of her colonial bouquet of yellow roses. Christie Coady who was flower girl, wore a yellow taffeta dress.

The map of the wedding party included Pfc. Charles R. Erwin, who acted as best man, and uncles Mathew and Samuel Erwin.

A reception was held in the garden of the Coady residence following the service. Mrs. Coady received her guests wearing a beige crepe dress. Her corsage was of pink roses and her hat was trimmed with the same roses.

Mrs. Groves chose a blue and white silk dress with a white hat and her corsage was of pink roses. The young couple left for a ten-day boat cruise to the Isle Royal.

Her shoes and accessories were pink and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink gladioli.

Mrs. Edward Rauss, her only attendant, wore a crepe dress of wild grape, her accessories were pink and she wore an orchid corsage.

Dr. Frank P. Seabury, of Detroit, was best man and W. Marshall Hebblewhite and Edward Rauss ushered.

Mrs. Schneider was gowned in white with a yellow and blue floral print, her hat and accessories were white and her corsage was of white gardenias and tiny yellow roses.

Red Cross Benefit Golf Tourney And Bridge-Luncheon Attracts 700

One of the largest and most successful social events of the season was the Red Cross benefit golf tournament and bridge luncheon at the Oakland Hills Country Club on Friday. There seemed to be women everywhere with hundreds enjoying the various activities of the day. There were approximately 700 attending the bridge luncheon which followed the golf tournament.

Winning the tournament was Shirley Spork, 17-year-old Redford high school girl, who topped a field of 134 players with an 82 card. She was out in 43 and back in 39 for her dramatically low score. She has won all three tournaments held by the Women's MGA.

Other women players declared the young champion played superb golf over the three toughest holes at Oakland Hills—the 10th, 11th and 12th. Her card showed she had 4-3-5 on these holes. Par is 4-4-5.

Second honors went to Jean Hopkins, of Cleveland, Ohio, who booked a winner going out but failed coming in, for a card of 39-44-83. Dorothy Murton, also of Redford, was third with an 85.

Mrs. Sam Byrd, of Plum Hollow, and Sally Sessions, of Kalamazoo, tied for fourth and fifth, each having 87's. Also under 90 were Mrs. E. L. Goddard and Mariette Row, now of Ariston, Ala., with 88's.

Many of the women taking part in the tournament plan to enter the Western Amateur at Chicago.
