

Michigan Open Golf Tournament At Orchard Lake Holds Center Of Stage

Golfers To Swarm to Orchard Lake This Week End for Michigan Open

Birmingham clubs are sending large delegations of golfers to Orchard Lake this week end for the Michigan open championships. Al Watrous of Oakland Hills, is defending champion. He won the title last year from Claude Harmon, now Lochmoor professional, in an 18-hole playoff by one stroke with a 70 at Edgewood Country Club last fall.

Tourney officials, swamped by a flood of entries, indicated they would limit the field to 200 players with the 75 low scorers and ties in the first 18 holes Aug. 5 qualifying for the final 36 holes the following day.

Sam Byrd, professional at Plum Hollow, who Sunday defeated Craig Wood, national open title holder, in a special challenge match, is picked by many followers of the game to win the title in this, the twenty-first playing of the Michigan Open championships.

Byrd won the PGA at Midland last Sunday and should be met at Orchard Lake, he would become the second "double champion" in Michigan golf history.

Only golfer in the last 20 years to win the state PGA and the Michigan open in the same year, was Emerick Kocsis, now in the Army. Kocsis, then professional at Indianwood, won the 1940 title at Jackson and carried off Open honors at Midland the same season.

Chick Ratan of the Birmingham Country Club will take a large group to Orchard Lake. The Birmingham pro is expected to be well up toward the top when the playing is over.

Harmon will be back to make another bid, as will Chuck Kocsis, who barely missed last year's play-off; Joe Belfore, Jack Winney, Frank Walsh and all the other regulars.

Orchard Lake intends to put the tournament on in a big way and proceeds will go to the rehabilitation fund for war veterans at Percy Jones Hospital.

Red Cross Offices For Oakland County Are Being Changed

When home service of the American Red Cross recently moved into offices, 419 People's State Building, Pontiac, several changes were made in office arrangement at Chapter Headquarters. The executive offices are now at 4 Seneca street, Pontiac.

Home service with Mrs. E. P. Turner, Southfield Township, chairman, is now in a location much better suited to efficient service. The move gave needed additional room at headquarters.

Miss Ruth Kimball, executive secretary has moved into the offices at 4 Seneca street, formerly occupied by home service.

This has made possible an office for Junior Red Cross which now uses the office formerly occupied by Miss Kimball and her staff.

Mrs. R. A. Armstrong is chairman of Junior Red Cross and is organizing work of the service in the public schools. Useful production is accomplished by this department.

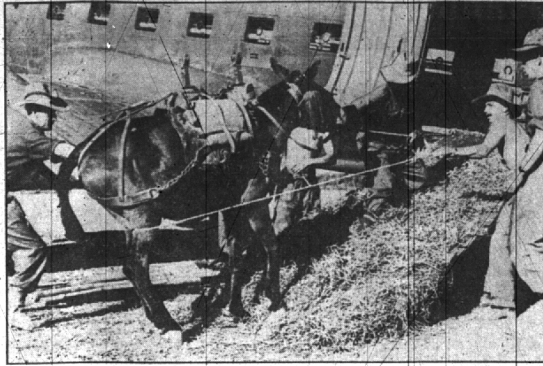

Red Cross Motor Corps headed by Mrs. Charles Evans of Bloomfield Hills now has an office at 12 Seneca street and the work of this service is facilitated as a result of the change.

The Red Cross in Southern Oakland County also recently moved and is now at Rooms 228 and 224, Wayne-Oakland Bank Building, Main street, Royal Oak. Home service of Southern Oakland continues at 219 1/2 South Main street, Royal Oak.

GROSSE ILE MEET
Both Birmingham and Oakland Hills clubs are expected to be represented in the Grosse Ile Invitational Golf Tournament, Aug. 18, 19 and 20. Officials of the tournament have increased the field to 96 teams, making six flights of 16 teams each.

The defending championship team is Dr. Phillip Cornell and Frank Connolly. They have sent in their entry.

Byrd Beats Wood In Special Match

Sam Byrd, the Plum Hollow pro, strengthened his claim to a place among the Big Four of the nation's golfers by securing a one-sided victory over Craig Wood, duration National Open champion, in their 36-hole challenge match played Saturday and Sunday.

Boasting a two-stroke lead when the final half of the match started Sunday, Byrd fired a closing 66, within one stroke of the course record, and defeated Wood by eight shots.

For the 36 holes, Sam was six under par with 139. Wood matched par on the final 18 after going two strokes over on his first round for a 146.

TODD WINS A TITLE

Todd Houck, assistant pro at Plum Hollow, seems to share his Boss' idea of golf titles for Monday. He drove his way to the title in the pre-tourney event at the Detroit Golf Club. He teamed with Tom Morgan for a 143 just to show Sam Byrd and Al Watrous that they do not have a corner on all the titles. Four teams tied for second and three more for third. Chick Ratan, of Birmingham, and Tommy Shannon, of Orchard Lake, shared medal honors for the pros. Each shot a 71. H. H. Davidson, of Red Run, paced the seniors with a 78. Ryan, the defeating champion, had an 87.

TOURNEY HERE TODAY

The District Golf Association Father and Son tournament is to be played today at Oakland Hills. The event was not held last year but a lot of interest has been shown and district officials decided to revive the tournament. Al Watrous is to play with his son, which some think may be the winning combination.

HELD FOR CAR THEFT

Darzell Russell, colored, of Pontiac, is held in the county jail on a car theft charge preferred in Birmingham police report. His bail has been fixed at $1,000 and his hearing date set for Aug. 11. He was taken to the county jail yesterday afternoon.

Bee Keeper Guilty of Failure to Register

Earl D. Green, a Waterford township beekeeper, was sentenced in Oakland county circuit court Monday on a charge of failing to register his apnary, as is required by law. Judge H. Russell Holland directed Green to pay up his registration fees for the years 1940 through 1944 and to pay $50 costs.

Henry Seeger, Holly, the Oakland county bee inspector, said today that under the state law apnary owners must register their apnaries before June 1 of each year.

The state department of agriculture makes an inspection of all apnaries. Information wanted in the registration is the number of colonies, honey of owner and location of apnary. The fee is $1.00 for apnaries over 10 colonies and 75 cents for smaller apnaries.

Ownership

"A PLEASURE"
One of the sheer joys of life is the possession of things which make for the comfort and beauty of one's surroundings. After all, it's these things which add up to become the very hall-mark of one's home. Thus it is wise to choose them carefully and well, in order that they blend with each other; and are each of themselves worthy of possession.

Have you been in to see the new things for the home which we have for Spring?

Michigan Open Golf Tourney Proceeds Go To Aid War Veterans

Proceeds of the Michigan Open golf tournament, Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 5 and 6, at Orchard Lake Country Club, will go to the rehabilitation fund for war veterans at Percy Jones Hospital.

With this special incentive, officials and members of Orchard Lake, with the Michigan PGA, agreed to make this the most successful tournament in the long history of the event.

Eighteen holes will be played the first and 36 the next, with Al Watrous the defending champion. He defeated Claude Harmon, now Lochmoor, professional, in a playoff last year at Edgewood.

Use Enough Water On Your Gardens

Sprinkling the vegetable garden for a short time every evening or so may provide recreation for the gardener but it does more harm than good to growing crops, says Keith C. Barrons, assistant professor of horticulture, Michigan State college.

Such watering merely wets the surface of the ground, causing substantial harm to the plants by inducing the development of a shallow root system, Barrons explains.

If the gardener deems it necessary to supplement rainfall, not less than the equivalent of one inch of rain should be applied each time, preferably with a rotating-type sprinkler, suggests Barrons. The simplest way to learn if one has applied sufficient water is to place several shallow, flat pans, such as pie tins, in the area covered by the sprinkler. It is possible then to estimate the amount of water applied by its depth in the pans.

A victory garden 30 by 50 feet in size would require irrigation for about five hours with the sprinkler delivering 3 gallons per minute, Barrons estimates. Even though one measures how water is being applied per minute, sudden increase in use elsewhere will cause the pressure and decrease of necessitating a longer sprinkling period. Water is best done in the evening or after the hottest part of the day because of excessive loss of moisture due to evaporation, Barron states.

Need More Wacs For War Work at Selfridge Field

Wacs are needed at Selfridge Field. Enlistments in the Women's Army Corps, to serve at Selfridge Field with the Army Air Forces, are now being accepted at local recruiting stations throughout Michigan.

Women between the ages of 20 and 49 with no dependents under the age of 14, may enlist in the WAC, designating Selfridge Field as their home station. Upon completing of six weeks basic training at Ft. Rucker, Ga., they will return to Selfridge for further training and assignment to the job they are best suited for.

Many vacancies now exist including such jobs as typist, control tower operator, communications technician, personnel work, photographer, entertainment specialist and a varied number of assignments that are suited for women with professional backgrounds. Further information may be obtained by writing or calling the U. S. Army Recruiting Station, Room 200, Buhl Building, Detroit.

- Salads, Desserts, Eggs and Leftovers . . . lower section is best. Cover leftovers.
- Vegetables, most Fruits . . . put into vegetable crisper or air-tight bag. Except tomatoes.
- Berries, Grapes and Melons . . . bottom of refrigerator is the best place for these.

The above chart shows the best, accepted places for storing foods in your gas refrigerator. If you are not following this plan now it will pay you to cut out this chart and paste it on the inside of your refrigerator door. Of such importance is this business of keeping food that Uncle Sam wants every family to know the proper method of storing perishables so that there will be less waste.

With summer here, your refrigerator will serve you better if you will follow this food arrangement. And remember, never put hot foods in your refrigerator. Keep the temperature at normal figure set by the manufacturer. Defrost frequently, especially when ice a quarter of an inch thick accumulates on the freezer.
