"—and that was the day I joined the WAVES"

THIS AIR-MIND WAVE handles the exciting job of routing air traffic at a big Naval Air Station. Here you see her as she gives an incoming Navy pilot his "Cleared to Land" orders.

WAVES SHARE with enlisted men much of the confidential work of Naval Communications. This is one of the most interesting and stimulating branches of the Naval service.

"... suddenly I realized that Dan had been doing the fighting for both of us. Now he was out of it for a while... but I could get in. Get in and do something important... something to let Dan know it was my war just as much as his. That day I volunteered for the WAVES—and it was the proudest day of my life. Dan says it made him feel pretty proud, too."

If you feel the way this girl did, you can get in the fight right now. You can wear the brave Navy blue of the WAVES... be just as much a part of the Navy as any man in the Fleet... do a man's job... earn a man's rating and pay.

To you, and other women between 20 and 36, the Navy offers you new friends, new interests, a new life. The Navy takes care of your training. Fits you for a vital job in aviation, radio, storekeeping, hospital corps and scores of other exciting fields.

Above all, the Navy gives you a chance to help our fighting men win sooner—and come back home. The Navy needs you... needs you urgently... needs you now. Can you afford to miss this chance to serve?
