LECTURE AT CRANBROOK

Another Members Lecture at Cranbrook Institute of Science is announced for Friday evening, January 12. Dr. Robert T. Hatt will lecture on "Paricutin, a Volcanic Laboratory." The lecture is to be illustrated with kodachrome motion pictures and slides and is an account of the 1944 expedition of Cranbrook Institute of Science and the University of Michigan to Mexico's new volcano. The lecture will also include the archaeological zones of Monte Alban, Mitla, Teotihuacan and the giant trees of Tule.

Christ Church Is Scene Of Giffels-Cochran Wedding

Christ Church Cranbrook was the scene of a lovely double-ring ceremony Tuesday evening when Emily Giffels, daughter of Raymond F. Giffels, of the Wardell-Sheraton, formerly of Birmingham, and the late Mrs. Giffels, and Edward Bern Cochran, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Cochran, of Purleigh road, took their marriage vows to the Rev. Charles Cadigan. The bride, joined in marriage by her father, was beautiful in a gown of "traditional white satin. The square neckline was edged across the front with a ruching of satin while the back of the dress was distinguished by a row of tiny satin buttons to the waist and a butterfly bow of satin. The full skirt was designed with a five-foot train. Her veil of imported Belgian lace over tulle, fell from a small coronet of the lace and reached to the top of the train on her gown. Her bows were white camellias and the veil she carried a number of red lace which was carried at the wedding of Mr. Cochran's grandmother.

The honor attendants were Mrs. Jack Welch, of Detroit, and the two bridesmaids were Catherine Giffels, of Detroit, cousin of the bride, and Doris Franklin. They were dressed in identical classic lines with high round necklines, buttoning to the waist in front, and white belts which fastened with a buckle set in moonstones. The bridesmaids wore long white gloves, white ostrich plumes in their hair and carried white throat-length bouquets, while the matron of honor wore similar accessories in gold and carried gold chrysanthemum bouquets.

Attending his brother as best man was William M. Cochran, Jr., S. J. S. UNSE, and seating the guests were Duane F. Foubert, Adrian, Tempin Lichlider, and P. C. Casimir Kool.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Oakland Hills Country Club. Mrs. Cochran, mother of the groom, received the guests in a simple gown of grey crepe, with matching cape trimmed in pink feathers. Her long gloves were pink and her waist corsage was of pink carnations.

When Mr. and Mrs. Cochran left the reception for Ann Arbor, where they will make their home, Mrs. Cochran was wearing a black dress and carried gold chrysanthemum bouquets.

Mrs. Charles A. Rondeau

Edith Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard C. Olson, of Park street, spoke her marriage vows to Sgt. Charles Arthur Rondeau, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rodouan, of Birmingham.

The couple were joined in marriage by her father. She wore a princess styled satin dress with white ruffles in the bodice and long skirt. Her long tulle veil was edged with the same lace and she carried a prayer book and gardenias with ribbon streamers.

Eleanor Skuse attended her as maid of honor. She was crowned in blue net and wore an arrangement of plumes and falling in her hair. Bridesmaids were headresses similar to those of the bride. They carried yellow carnations.

Richard Johnson acted as best man and Gerard Rondeau, brother of the bridegroom, as William Olson, brother of the bride, acted as usher.

Mrs. Olson wore a black skirt-length dress and a feather hat.

Following the service a wedding breakfast was served to members of the family and the bridal party at the Community House. A reception at the home of the bride's parents was held in the afternoon.

Sgt. Rondeau holds the Presidential citation for action with the First Marine Division at Guadalcanal.

LIONS STUDY PETROLEUM

The Gulf Oil Company furnished the program for the Lions Club meeting Wednesday noon. It was a moving picture story on the petroleum industry's part in fighting the war. It showed a host of moving petroleum products from the refinery and to the fields in the countries, then the "Big Inch" and the "Little Big Inch" pipelines which have been constructed since Pearl Harbor's entry petroleum came and refined by the East Coast States.

Happy New Year

GIRL SCOUTS

By Margaret Barney

Brownie Troop No. 12 collected recreational toys, wicker chairs, crates, dolls, trucks, puzzles and other articles dear to the hearts of children and they took them to the Oakland County Juvenile Home. Here they were joyfully received by some of the one hundred or more children who live there, as Christmas presents.

On the 12th, Troop 12 held a Mothers Tea. The guests inspected their daughters' handiwork, and listened to the Brownie story beautifully told by Mrs. Arthur McRozell, chairman of the troop. The girls sang songs and served punch and cookies.

Infantile Paralysis Fund Campaign Is To Be Held Jan. 14-31

From January 14-31 the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will conduct its annual appeal for funds. Here in Michigan the county chapters of the National Foundation coincide their drive with the national appeal.

During the past summer, Michigan was hard hit by Infantile Paralysis. Before the summer ended the total cases rose to epidemic proportions in some localities. In 1944 the total number of cases in Michigan was more than three times the average of the past seven years.

As a result of the work of the county chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, cooperating closely with the hospitals and doctors, far-reaching preparations for hospitalization and treatment were made. Fortunately, money was available to help victims through the generosity of thousands who had contributed last year to the Infantile Paralysis Appeal for funds.

NEW YEAR BEST WISHES

Happy New Year's Eve, more so than for many years past, the songs we sing and the merriment we indulge in flow from hearts that are lighter, for we all know now that the future is brighter, and we can look forward to 1945 with the conviction that much better things are in store for us.

With many thanks for past favors, and wishing you the full joys of this happy season, believe us to be ever at your service.

Hope for Tomorrow

Whatever the past year may have brought, we all look forward hopefully to 1945 as a harbinger of better days to come.

It is our hope, too, that in the New Year we will be more than neighbors... that we will become better neighbors.

Season's greetings to one and all.
