DETROIT EDISON LINES

... timely items of interest and value...
... concrete tiddlywinks...
... necessary evil...
... apple treat...
... turn off that light...
... you save coal, transportation and manpower when you save electricity

CONCRETE TIDDLYWINKS To conserve iron and steel for the war, the Detroit Edison Underground Lines Department now installs manhole covers of reinforced concrete, a fill-in spider web of steel. The concrete covers substitute successfully for the all-metal covers formerly used, and stand up well under heavy traffic loads. Each concrete cover represents a saving of about 150 pounds of iron and steel.

NECESSARY EVIL... Paper work we have always with us. But the mass planning of war swells paper work to a flood tide, and the extra work behind the scenes sometimes reaches a fantastic amount. In order to get the required materials to serve our customers, Detroit Edison has had to file 12,111 individual applications with the WPB. The thousands of restrictive orders caused by the war require a reference set of 17 volumes to keep the Company up to date.

APPLE TREAT... Our Home Service Department invites you to try this tempting dish:
Apple Oatmeal Crumble
4 large cooking apples 1 cup soda
1/2 cup dark corn syrup 1/2 cup salt
6 tbsp. shortening 1 cup finely ground oatmeal
1/2 cup all-purpose enriched flour

Grease a two-quart casserole. Peel and slice apples very thin, and place in casserole. Cover with syrup. Combine flour, oatmeal, soda and salt, and mix in with the shortening. Sprinkle over mixture in casserole. Put down very lightly. Bake in preheated 350° F. oven for 40 minutes. Serve hot or cold with cream or top milk.

TURN OFF THAT LIGHT!... Detroit Edison street lighting is usually furnished to communities at a fixed normal rate. If you occasionally notice street lights burning in the daytime, this is done so that patrol men can check for burned-out lamps. On dark winter mornings, we keep street lights on somewhat longer than usual, as an added protection for children going to school. There is no charge for the extra electricity used in either of these cases.
