Valentine Dance To Be Semi-Formal

Beta Beta Gamma sorority comes forth with an announcement of this week regarding its dance at the Community House Saturday night.

Said occasion will be the Beta's annual Valentine dance and yet young Romans and Lochinvars who are finding it difficult to get "tux" or "tails" from either merchant or dry-cleaner can have a sigh of relief because the official announcement reads "semi-formal." So don't let the difficult-these-days-problem of dress keep you away from this dance.

The music, you will remember, is to be furnished by Max Gail's orchestra and the closing hour is one o'clock. Tickets are on sale at $2.20 per couple.

Farewell Dinner for Member of P. O. Staff

Assistant Postmaster Eugene C. Beers leaves today to join Uncle Sam's fighting forces, after 14 years in the Birmingham post office. Fellow employees of the local postal service entertained in his honor last Wednesday evening with a potluck dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Leopold, on Kelloggdrive. There were 39 in attendance at the dinner and the evening of games and music which followed. Among the guests was Sgt. Homer Newman, a former local post office employee home on furlough from an army base in Texas. A handsome gift was presented to Mr. Beers. The assistant postmaster is the tenth employee of the Birmingham office to enter the armed service.
