

Changes Being Made In Attendance Plan

In order to make the attendance system more satisfactory at Baldwin high school, some changes have recently been made by Lloyd Cooper, who is in charge of attendance.

The importance of students reporting where they are scheduled is being stressed more, and they are urged to report any changes in schedules to the attendance department.

All tardy students are to report to the general office to receive the usual slip of admittance. Chronic tardiness will be given penalties in the detention room. Detention will be given in minutes, not in periods, and it is emphasized that every minute must be made up.

It is hoped that with these changes in the taking of attendance, the system will present little difficulty and prove more satisfactory.

BALDWIN HIGHLIGHTS

Hi kids!

Back again with the latest news! First of all congratulations are in order for Marge Vehmeyer, Ralph Penoyer, Joan Pasher, Mel Boomer, Marge Pheasant, and Bruce Sanders, the latest on the steady list.

It seems hayrides are the style, no matter what the season, and Saturday night was quite a number of lads and lassies having a rip-roaring time, regardless of the cold.

The movie still seems to be the best bet when there isn't a dance on the bill. Some of those enjoying "No Time for Love" were Phil Moore, Dick Dunn, Joan Pasher, Mel Boomer, Jean Holgerson, Andy Burlingame, Katie Kemp, and Bob Little. Quite a few of the kids were seen taking in the show by hopping the hay wagons out at Pat Peabody's.

After the hayride Mary Jane Bell, Bob Clark, Carmela DiPietro, and Frank Watts hit the road for Bell's to have out and roast winners before a roaring fire.

Looks like that's about all, so until next week I remain your,

Ann Nonimus

Ferndale Team To Play Here Friday

By TOM ALLEN

Tomorrow night the rattlepatties of Ferndale's Lincoln High School will invade Baldwin gym and the Maple cagers will seek revenge for the 20-27 defeat received at Ferndale a few weeks ago.

These of us who were fortunate enough to be in the stands that night saw one of the fastest, most exciting games that has been played in Baldwin's history. The Maple just missing victory by two points in the closing seconds. Tomorrow night the game promises to be just as good with the Maple out to avenge that two point defeat.

Tomorrow night, for the first time in three years, the Maple cagers will be without the services of Fred Zoellin, star defender, who graduated last week. Although Coach Lloyd Cooper has made no definite choice of a successor to Zoellin on the starting five, Weldon MacDonald, a junior, has an inside track for the job.

Certainly the Maple will need Baldwin basketball will miss Zoellin's fine play and good sportsmanship.

The probable starting line-ups are as follows:

Birmingham	F	Boomer
Peebles	F	D. Little
Sheehan	F	Boomer
Dan	G	Boomer
Morish	G	Kelley
MacDonald	G	MacDonald

Birmingham Girls Win Close Contest From Royal Oak

It was with great satisfaction that the basketball team of the Baldwin Girls' Athletic Association was victor over the Royal Oak sextet in Baldwin gym Thursday after school by the exceptionally close score of 15-13.

At the end of the first half Royal Oak held the lead but an ever spirited Baldwin team took over in the second half. First one team then the other dropped a basket, keeping the score close even for comfort. In the last few minutes of the game it was 13 all when Baldwin's Reuter, Baldwin forward, shot the final basket that put the Baldwin G. A. ahead.

As a celebration ice cream was served after the game in the cafeteria to both teams and their coaches. The girls are expecting to play again soon at Royal Oak although a definite date has not been set as yet. In an encounter with them last year Baldwin girls won out.

The starting lineup for Baldwin was Polly Hanson, Donna Kruger, Dolly Moore, forwards; Elaine Jones, Ann Hansen, Clara White, guards; Jackie Boyce, Wynne Reuter, Shirley Smith, and Marguerita Kirth were substitutes.

The starting lineup for Royal Oak was Thompson, Morris, Thomas, forwards; Hamilton, Covert, McCreary, guards. Substitutes were Thomas, Memmer, Ferris, Johnson, Sink, Hamilton, and Hansen.

Coaches for the two teams were Miss Helen Clark of Baldwin and Miss Doerr of Royal Oak.

Many Baldwin Grads Join Colors Or Are Attending College

While most of the boys of the recent graduating class are awaiting call into government service, the girls are following diverse paths. Carl Blainman, Don Benecor, and Fred Zoellin are in V-5, the Naval Air Corps. The Navy will soon have Don Fisher, Charles Martz, and Jack Hopson.

Bob Joyce, Jack Sweeney, and Jim Hendrix are up for the Army Air Corps. Ed Grandell left last week to attend Albion College. Clayton Gordon is in his second semester at the University of Michigan, as is Gordon Cole at Michigan State.

Patty Price is attending the University of Illinois. Nina Kaifun and Sue Burnside are vacationing in Florida for three weeks. Ginny Bostwick will be New York bound next Tuesday. Mary Jane Tuttle is employed at Beck Cleaners while Shirley Farnham has a position with General Motors in Pontiac.

Sports Showup

By TOM MILLEBRANDT

With the advantage of playing on their own floor, the Maples will face the Ferndale cagers tomorrow night what is sure to be a hard fought contest. The locals will be out to avenge a two-point defeat received at Ferndale a few weeks ago.

The hosts will be Baldwin's fourth, all of them huge successes. The last one sold over ten thousand dollars worth of bonds and stamps.

The importance of blood plasma to our armed forces will be discussed by Captain David Kuperstein in the weekly assembly tomorrow at Baldwin.

His talk is preceding the visit of the blood bank to Birmingham, Feb. 14, 15, and 16.

Barnum Junior High Wins Saturday's Big Court Title Contest

By TOM ALLEN

The first season of the Birmingham Elementary School basketball league ended last Saturday with the Barnum seventh grade players going through an undefeated season to become the League's first champion.

Presenting an entirely different lineup from that of the first five games, Barnum rolled to an easy victory over Quorton by a 35-0 score. Quorton was without the services of three regulars, lost by semester promotions. Colin Campbell, playing his first game in the Barnum line up, led his team with 4 points, followed by Keith Little with eight.

In the second game last Saturday, Pierce defeated Adams, 19-5. High scorers for the victory were Seany Glin with seven points and Pete Plumstead with six.

Next Saturday morning a special exhibition game will be played between the Barnum and Quorton teams as they were organized in before mid-year promotions. Most encouraging at these games has been a large number of parents and others in the stands. The future basketball stars of Birmingham have been in action in these games. By the time these fellows get to senior high school they will have a few or five years of organized training.

The final standings and last Saturday's line ups are as follows:

War Bond Poster Work Creates Lot Of School Interest

By buying bonds, bombs bomb the Buns and "Empty your bank to save a Tank." These sentiments expressed by Baldwin tenth grade English classes set the pace for the Fourth War Loan assembly February 14. The students have gone all out for snappy slogans and posters to be placed throughout the high school this week.

The slogans represent the application of English to a practical problem. Under a map of the United States we find "Let's all serve it to help preserve it."

Another snappy jingle is: "We leave our money for the boys. We back our boys with fighting the Japs."

Striking posters with convincing messages were also done by the students. Three girls who did excellent work on their posters are Harriet Thompson, Phyllis Jones, and Marilyn Johnson. Co-chairmen for the poster committee were Pete Dixon and Bob Hughes.

One of the best posters features a dead man showing an emblem, a gun, and a broken tree. The accompanying slogan is "Ours not to do or die. Ours not to buy and buy." Another shows Uncle Sam holding a war bond and a youth saying "I'm going all out. The cur slogan says "Which?"

A poster designed to hit home reveals a lonely crew for an unknown airman. Pointedly, the slogan says, "It's too late for him, but not for others. Buy War Bonds."

Mrs. Mary Hartwick, teacher of the class, says that there were a much clever, original slogans that it would be a hard task to determine the best.

The slogans, posters, etc., will be placed about the building before Monday's Bond Assembly.
