

Village Players Win High Praise For Fine Program

The Village Players opened their doors last Saturday night for the first production of the New Year. A high mark was set with the presentation of selected scenes from "The Women" by Clara Booth. This play was under the direction of Helen Gensing and was enthusiastically received.

The lot of the play was adapted and presented in two scenes. The first scene took place in the living room of Mary's home where a clever bridge table conversation takes place. The parts of "the women" were played by May Scholten (Peggy), Mae Averill (Gladys), the maid, Florine Grier (Nancy), Ruth Middleton (Sylvia), Jane Bell (Mary) and Carol.

Green (Edith). The second scene took place in the cook's pantry. A conversation between Jane, the maid, and Maggie, the cook, played by Helen Gensing, takes in the plot of the play. Hope Lewis held the lines and Betty Fricker was in charge of the properties.

"The Pride of the Claghornes" by George F. Kaufman and Howard Dietz, in light skill, was presented in one act. The plot evolved around the misconception of the word "virtuous." Marie Bullock was director and line and properties were handled by Eleanor Rowe. The scene is set in the garden of the Claghorne mansion. Presenting the play were: Don Stanton (Jasper), the colored houseman, Charlie Shain (Colonel Jefferson Claghorne), Gladys Rogers (Sarah, his wife), Betty Spinning Smith (Bessie, their daughter), Paul Averill (Simpson Carter, her suitor), Ed Reed (Ely Carter), and Cliff Guest (Martin Carter).

"Robinson Crusoe" by Merrill Denison, a "take-off" on the motion picture industry, was presented. The conversation is a burlesque on how the motion picture industry changes the plot of a story. Warren Pease (Al, the director), Walter Skinner (Steve, the camera man), and John St. Clair (the actor) made up the cast.

Farm and Garden Board of Directors Plan For Year

Mrs. Ewald Schaffer, newly elected president of the Birmingham Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association, entertained the board of directors at a delightful luncheon, at her home on Dunbar lane, Monday, as a prelude to the first board meeting of the new year.

Daffodils in a unique, vertical arrangement gave a note of spring to the luncheon. Tentative plans for the year were presented, and the next meeting of the board will be held on February 14, at the Community House at 130.

The new officers, Mrs. Harold R. Chapel, first vice president, Mrs. Wm. C. Howe, second vice president, Mrs. Henry J. Beam, treasurer, Mrs. Robert J. Lynd and Mrs. J. J. Reilly, Jr., were there.

New board members include Mrs. Atwater B. Oatman, conservation chairman; Mrs. Alvin H. Knorr, finances; Mrs. E. W. Brown, social; Mrs. Harry G. Hamilton and Mrs. Lloyd S. Linton, publicity; Mrs. Edward H. Laird, education; Mrs. Royce Boers, home recs. Also present were Mrs. Hugh D. Bachus, who will take over roadside improvement and Mrs. Elmer King, community planning; Mrs. Lawrence C. Howe, revision; Mrs. Frank Webb, marketing; Mrs. Dale Miller, Membership; Mrs. Harry Greene, representative to the garden center and Mrs. Victor Spitz, representative to the Community House.

There will be two new committees this year: hospitality, under the direction of Mrs. Wm. Howe, and car service committee, under the direction of Mrs. Wm. McCallum. This committee will handle all calls pertaining to the war that are received by the club, and will be glad to take your subscription for the War Loan. Incidentally, during the afternoon, subscriptions for over $1200.00 were received by Mrs. McCallum.

The February meeting on Monday, the 14th, will feature the gifted Isabel Zuker, Detroit. Garden Editor as the speaker. She will talk on "War Time Arrangements in the Home" and will discuss the art of making beautiful arrangements at small expense, and thus saving the difference in money usually spent for war bonds or stamps. Some of the arrangements will relate to the double use of foods. This meeting has been arranged by Mrs. Derwood B. Gamble, the retiring president. If you care to buy bonds through the Garden Club, please call Mrs. McCallum, 579.
