

R. M. Darval Takes Bride In Detroit

Alberta Jeanette Hungate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Hungate, of Detroit, became the bride of Cpl. Richard M. Darval, USAAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Darval, of East Humphrey street, Saturday, July 1, in St. Dominic's church, Detroit.

The bride wore a long gown of white net over ivory satin fashioned with long torso and full skirt which formed a slight train. The bell sleeves tapered to points over the wrists, the sweetheart neckline was edged in frosted beading in a floral design. She carried an orchid and a white prayer book.

The bride's attendant, Helen Hungate, sister of the bride, wore pink net styled with a taffeta waist and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and white sweetpeas. The best man was Pfc Patrick Lynn, USAAF, of New Orleans, La.

Following the morning service there was a breakfast at the Hotel Webster Hall. A large reception was held in the home of the bride's parents in the evening.

Friends Enjoy Visit To Cabbage Patch At Bakers' On Riverside

With cabbages as large as one's head, fine ears of early corn, ripe tomatoes, and onions, peas, beans, and other vegetables, the Bakers' garden at the L. M. Baker home on Riverside drive is enjoying fruit one of the "gardens of the year" for that section of the city.

And just to add variety there are many kinds of flowers and (not many gardeners have this) there are a number of cotton plants just ready to blossom.

Birmingham may seem a bit far north for cotton but the Bakers may be helping to switch the crop south, to say nothing of peanuts and other similar southern crops being raised in some gardens of this area. So the Bakers say, "Why not cotton?"

Brownie Day Camp Is Well Attended

The Brownies are taking their turn at Day Camp at Springdale here this week. Nature study is especially stressed. They will learn all about fire-building, using principles of the tepes fire for cooking their meals.

Muriel Lockrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lockrow, of Ridgedale, has just returned from a week's conference at Lakeside, Ohio. Muriel represented the Baptist youth of Michigan at the United Christian Youth Movement (U.C.Y.M.) Conference of North America.

Approximately 800 young people attended, representing 25 Protestant denominations and 11 countries.

The U.C.Y.M. is a movement to unite young people of all races and creeds in working simultaneously on problems concerning the sick and hungry, race relations, and post-war reconstruction, all of which carry out the Movement's challenging theme: "Building a New World, a Christian World."

The conference suggested many ideas and projects for use in the local communities.

Muriel gave her report to the congress and separate district Baptist church last Sunday morning.

Will Join Hatts Of Cranbrook on Mexican Research

C. Thebourn Maxwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip H. Hatts, of Ming Lake, are twelve, is off to study in Mexico this summer. He left Birmingham June 27, stopping with friends in St. Louis, Mo., before boarding his Southern Railway car for Mexico City, N.M. in early March under the direction of Miss Deborah A. Party, of Birmingham, through the Mrs. Underwood Institute, and Miss Edith McConville, of the Dean of Women's Club. After the studying for November begins in the American Institute in Mexico City, he will then return to New York City to be employed by the University of Michigan as soon as possible in the occupied country. University students, domestic employees, faculty members, and Ann Arbor townpeople all contributed to the collection which will pay his expenses through the summer in the West Coast. He will be accompanied by the youngest son of his Aunt, Robert Martinec-Mendoza, a contemporary who has planned the excursions with Tony. They will also spend some time as members of the Neighborhood club where Mexican girls gather to play tennis and many American sports, including football. Tony is a student of Cranbrook and a member of the second year.
