

Lt. Waite Urges Birmingham Push Blood Bank Work

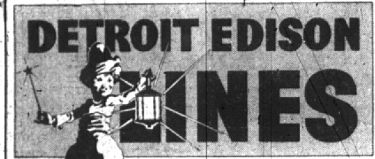

Harry Hoey, chairman of the Oakland County Red Cross blood donor service, recently received a letter from Lt. (j.g.) Lloyd L. Waite, USNR, a former master at Cranbrook. In it he says: "My congratulations to you and the work you are doing with the Blood Bank.

"I'm sure you could do no more worthwhile thing than keep that stuff coming to us out here. One outstanding case that comes to my mind at the moment occurred last February during the Marshall Islands operation. During the early morning hours a small boat hailed our ship requesting that we take a wounded Marine aboard for surgical treatment.

"To make a long story short, our doctor, after getting the man aboard and onto our operating table found that the individual had been wounded some six hours before—a bullet having struck him near the right thigh, traveled upward through the intestines and out through the stomach wall. Three hours of excellent surgery plus quarts of plasma, augmented by a great will to live on the part of the man, pulled him through.

"That chap is alive today and doing nicely at a base hospital. Thanks to you people for the splendid work you are doing on the home front for us on the fighting front. Keep up a good work."

Tasks performed by the Army Service Forces in overseas theatres of operation include the building of ports, roads and railroads through which men and supplies must move, the establishing and stocking of depots, unloading ships and running harbor boats all over the world.

Timely items concerning your electric service, suggestions about cooking, lighting and appliances, and many other things of interest and value will appear from time to time in "Edison Lines." Make "Edison Lines" a reading habit!

OUR Research Laboratory is constantly working on new and better ways of doing things at lower cost. For example, one piece of high voltage transmission cable has for some time been kept under high pressure, another identical piece in a vacuum. Cable in a vacuum usually ages rapidly. But this piece has been operating satisfactorily for three years! Even our experts don't know why. When we learn, valuable knowledge may be added to our "know-how."

HOW WILL WE TRAVEL and move goods after the war? Whether by road, rail, water or air, Michigan, located as it is in the heart of America and the Great Lakes waterways, can look confidently to the future. Rail and highway networks link us to all America.

THIS NEW RECIPE sounds appetizing, and its low point values are easy on the ration book:

Savory Meat Balls—Temp 375 degrees, Time 45 min.
2 cups macaroni and cheese ½ pound ground lean pork
1 pound ground smoked ham 1 egg, beaten

Cut leftover macaroni and cheese into fine pieces. Mix with other ingredients. Pack in greased muffin pans. Bake. Makes 6 to 8 servings. Other meat may be substituted for the ham and pork. If cooked meat is used, add ¼ cup milk.

BRING YOUR BURNED-OUT LAMP BULBS into any Edison office and receive new bulbs of the size you need without charge. (Please show your latest electric bill for identification.) Don't rob one lamp socket to fill another; have enough bulbs on hand.

WAR BONDS, world's best investment, pay $4 for every $3 you invest. But buying them is only half the story: HOLD them! You can't store water in a sieve! Tomorrow they will purchase many things you want! Buy War Bonds and wait for tomorrow's bargains.

Lathrup Townsite News

Elizabeth Waddell And Charles Cannon Married Saturday

Before an altar banked with ferns and with seven black candelabra and vases of white carnations, larkspur and baby breath at either side, Elizabeth Waddell and Charles Cannon, USNR, spoke their marriage vows at four o'clock Saturday afternoon in Bushnell Congregational church, Southfield at Grand River avenue, Detroit, with the Rev. Alexander W. Meigs officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Waddell, 27634 Rackham boulevard, Lathrup Townsite, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Cannon, 4909 Whitfield avenue, Detroit.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a summery gown of white dotted swiss styled with short puff sleeves and sweetheart neckline edged with black waist clusters of valley lilies. She was accented with tiny swiss buttons. The skirt was bouffant back with clusters of valley lilies. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and larkspur and wore dotted swiss mits edged at the elbows with lace.

Elizabeth Waddell attended her father and was groomed in white organza flowered in blue with a cascade of self ruffles blouse effect and the waist line to its sweeping length. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations surrounded by blue cornflowers. A crown of blue cornflowers was worn as a headpiece.

George Nash, chief petty officer, USNR, with the V-12 unit, University of Michigan, was best man.

and the ushers were James Cannon, brother of the bridegroom and Robert Waddell, the bride's brother.

Mrs. Waddell chose for her daughter's wedding a placid green gown with flowered hat. Her corsage was Johanna Hill rosebuds to match her hat and long pink gloves. Mrs. Cannon was attired in powder blue with black hat, and accessories in black, and brist cliff corsage of rosebuds.

A reception for 125 guests at the bride's home followed the wedding ceremony. The tea table was covered with an embroidered Italian linen cut work, a low arrangement of garden flowers centered it and white candles in silver candelabra were at either end. A tiered wedding cake ornamented with roses and topped with a bell graced the center of the buffet and was flanked on both ends with crystal candelabra.

Ruth Whitehead, cousin of the bride, of Jackson Heights, N. Y., daughter of Don Whitehead, Associated Press correspondent, and Mrs. Ralph Anderson, Betty's college room-mate, poured.

The bride's going away costume was a black and white check one-piece gown, with which she wore a bonnet hat trimmed with veiling, and a gardenia corsage. Following the reception the wedding party had a dinner at the Wardell Reception, after which the young couple left for the North.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Ralph Anderson, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Ruth Whitehead, of Jackson Heights, N. Y. They are house guests at the Waddells.

The bride and bridegroom both attended Michigan State college.

Pvt. Robert Robertson, brother of Mrs. John T. Feehan, of Atholene, is home the first time in 16 months, after completing training and duty school at Scott Field, Ill., and Yuma, Ariz., respectively. He will report for further training in Lincoln, Neb., July 28 and will probably be enroute on his 20th birthday, July 30.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert L. Sealy, of Glendale boulevard, were hosts the last two weeks to Mrs. John Jurison and daughter, Alice. Dr. Sealy's sister and niece, Sally Sealy will leave Friday for Camp Westmore, Higgins Lake, where she will remain the month of August. Bob Sealy is at Camp-Goodhue, Hale, Mich., having left for a two weeks' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Loomis of Lathrup boulevard, have as guests Mrs. O. D. Loomis, their daughter-in-law and her parents, the Clyde Ellison of Dallas City, Ill. They will journey to Gratiot beach to remain a week; then return Aug. 2 to complete their visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Cline, of Saratoga boulevard, had as house guests Mrs. Carroll Grant and children, David and Lydia, of Rockville Center, Md. Lieut. Grant is at the Naval Reserve laboratory station there. The Clines are spending a week at Marine City.

A garden supper for a few neighbors at our house last Thursday turned out to be a "house warming," mainly because the thermometer under the garden parasol registered 56 degrees and so we "dried" in the seats and turned up the oil to 80 degrees to warm our carcasses. As it was potluck, I do not hesitate to say the food was superb. Another party for the family was held in the garden Sunday night and the weather man was very agreeable.
