Betty Jean Waggoner Is Wed At Lovely Ceremony

At a lovely ceremony read in the First Methodist church Saturday evening at 8 o'clock by the Rev. C. C. Becker, Betty Jean Waggoner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Waggoner, of Henley drive, became the bride of Lt. Joseph E. Miller, USAF, son of Mrs. Alma Kresin, of Dearborn.

Betty Jean Waggoner

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in heavy tulle with a ruffled train and traditional bridal lines, with a marquisette yoke which formed a sweetheart neckline bordered with white lace. Her fingertip veil was held in place by tiny clusters of orange blossoms on either side. The bridal bouquet was of white roses and white delphinium.

Mrs. Glenn C. Waggoner, Jr., as matron of honor, wore a light blue dress of bengaline net with plaited ruffling around the neckline and elbow length sleeves. She wore an arrangement of pink carnations and blue delphinium in her hair and carried a bouquet of the same flowers.

Capt. C. E. Kresin, of Ft. Sil, Okla., brother-of-the-bridegroom, was best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Waggoner wore a gown of pale milk jersey accented with white carnations and blue delphinium. Mrs. Kresin's gown was of dusty rose eyelet lace and she wore a corsage of gardenias.

Cool and Colorful Suggestions for the Country

Colorful, sturdy type glasses to serve from what you may, now that rationing has gone farther than foods . . . $4.50 to $8.00 per dozen. Trays—as attractive as they have always been, some even more so, in a wide range of prices. We are now showing gaily colored dishes with a peasant touch for the cottage or out-of-doors living room—different by far from the usual. Be sure to see this display in our gift room.

YOUR VOTE FOR Liddicoat for SHERIFF

Oakland County Republican voters on July 11 will nominate a candidate for Sheriff. Care should be given in selecting the right man. Mr. Liddicoat's qualifications are unquestioned. His long experience in law enforcement, years of work for veterans of all wars and participation in juvenile activities are well known.

WHAT HE WILL DO

- SHERIFFS' COUNCIL. Prominent citizens in all sections of the county, will be invited to serve on a Sheriff's Council to keep the sheriff's office informed as to conditions throughout the county. This will eliminate guess work in serving the county. RESIDENTIAL PATROL. The county will be divided into four sections. The deputies in each will constantly patrol their territories, thus enabling them to answer calls quickly. Cross-county driving and long delays will be eliminated. Some sectors of the county report not having seen a deputy in two years. Residential officers will assist the communities' own police. Each community served will have a residential deputy, under a partial payment salary arrangement, together with office and telephone, if they desire it. Radio equipped cars will be available. FINGERPRINT USE. The sheriff's office will make use of its fine fingerprint facilities. In eight years, it is said, no case has been fingerprinted in court in which use has been made of the department's fingerprint files. The new sheriff will correct this fault. JUVENILE CARE. A member of the sheriff's staff will be trained in juvenile work. The services of this leader will be available for schools, organizations and parents for counsel and guidance, promoting good citizenship. ELIMINATE WASTE. The honor system will be instituted for members of the sheriff's staff. Officers on night duty will fuel their cars for use of the day officer in the territory in which each serves, saving gasoline, time and eliminating driving to and from Pontiac. CO-OPERATION. The sheriff's office in the future will co-operate with all law enforcement agencies, F. B. I., State Police, courts, local constables and police officers, greatly improving efficiency of the department. OFFICER TRAINING. Members of the sheriff's force will be trained in proper use of firearms, attend classes, study F. B. I. methods and will conduct themselves as gentlemen. VETERANS. Oakland County has never elected a war veteran as Sheriff. Mr. Liddicoat is a veteran. Police Chief DeVriendt of Farmington, who will be under sheriff, also is a veteran. Both are active in veterans' rehabilitation work. REVITALIZE STAFF. Former capable members of the sheriff's force, who resigned because of dissatisfaction with conduct of the office under the present undersheriff, will be invited to join the new administration.
