Kingswood Summer Institute to Begin Its Program Monday The third Summer Institute of Kingswood School Cranbrook begins its six-week program for women and girls next Monday.

The Institute is offering instruction in weaving by Lillian Holm who came to Kingswood in 1923 as one of a group of weavers who designed and produced the hand woven interior decorations of Kingswood school.

Another attraction of the Summer Institute is classes in swimming and tennis, instruction to be given by Miss Jaqueline Thompson, head of the women's swimming department of Northwestern University.

Katherine Trumbull will teach classes in cooking and nutrition again this year, and also instruct the sewing classes. Beginning and advanced courses are offered and much practical work is planned in these important war-time featured courses.

Birmingham Junior Legionnaires Win Hot Ball Game from Hazel Park

After losing their 1-0 heart-breaker to Fremont in the season's opener, the Charles Edwards Junior American Legion team bounced right back to take the measure of the Hazel Park Legion team by a 10-to-4 score.

Four Unearned Runs Hazel Park got off to an early lead in the first inning when Harry Southernland reached safely on an error by Ed Gasser after he had forced Cal Cyrus at second and moved around on two passed balls, scoring on an infield out.
