 Guests of the dinner at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Rosa Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Darling, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Chapman, Jr., and Mrs. Dwight B. Ireland, Miss Ruth Hill, Miss Lucille Dewar, Miss Gerda Hansen, Miss Bertha Robertson, and Mrs. W. S. Toothaker.

Those of the program were: Ella Clark, who played a swing arrangement of "Turkey in the Straw"; a German band consisting of Margaret Richey, Denis Murray, John Gilbert, and Bob Hart; Wanda Gertner who sang "World You" to the accompaniment of Louise Cunningham; a boys' quart, consisting of Reynold Haeck,

BALDWIN HIGHLIGHTS

Hi, Kids,
 Heard 'all that "Sonja" was really good, and that the cast did a wonderful job. From the sound of things, everyone was there supporting it wholeheartedly.
 Carol Spivill, Norm Schwab, Sally Kresler, George Landis, Nan Leatherby, Dick Wattle, Skippy Main, Don Lawson, Mary Ann Cahal, Lloyd Harvey, Jan Ummyer, Bud Chittion, Abbie Stoll, Bob Love, Betty Lou Thurman, Jack Gerard, Joyce Watkins, Walter Heers, Ann Hansen and Bernard Levinson had a hen party late Friday night, or should we say Saturday morning?
 Two of Baldwin's latest steady-state saw "Cry Havoc" Saturday night. Yes, we mean Jean Eddy and Edith Rogers who were seen double with Nancy Newnam and Stan Ford.
 "Obnoxious fans were Mary Fox, Bill Bones, Bob Fox, Tom Ritter, Barb Forester, Drew Wellen, Bob Kellner, and Kate Kemp, Bob Little, Jean Wyckoff and Bob O'Brien. Still playing host to the De Molay's at an ever popular stag party and a party which was held at the W. J. Hoge, Ray Stevens, Luis Kennedy, Ormand Sherwood, Tom Green, Fred and Jack Hayward, Herb Herzberg and Ronnie Johnson had a wonderful time.
 If they had been errorless fielding, the team would have been a first class pitchers' battle between Mr. Clemens' Manning and Birmingham's Jim Watt. As it was the Bathers scored six runs and Birmingham one as the result of faulty fielding.
 In the top half of the first inning the Maples drew first blood when they failed to hold their lead. Conway Adams, lead-off man, was hit by a pitched ball, and Bill Eade singled, putting two men on base who were none out. After Don Little struck out, Bud Keller and Ed Davey singled, the latter scoring Adams with Eade being out at the plate.
 With one out in the last of the first, Davey hit a home run in three singles, an infield put-out, and another single accounted for four Mc. Clemens' runs. In the Birmingham second Dick Dunn scored a totally unearned run by hitting two errors and two passing balls. With a 4-2 lead the Bathers came back in the third and added two more with the aid of errors by Davey, Eade, and Keller. An error by Leon Thurston in the fourth. In the sixth Stan Clarke walked, stole second, on a passed ball, and stole third and came to make the score 7-2, which stood for the remainder of the game.
 Jim Watt pitched the entire game for the Maples, his sixth complete game in as many starts, striking out five, walking one, allowing five hits and one earned run. Manning, the Mc. Clemens' hurler, struck out seven, walked seven, and allowed three hits and one earned run. Leading hitter for the Maples was Sheldon, center fielder, with two hits and three times at bat, while Bud Keller led the Maples with four for four.
 The starting line ups were as follows:
 BIRMINGHAM
 Adams, m Charbeneau, 2b
 Little, rf 3b
 Keller, cf
 Gasser (Clarke), 2b
 Dunn (Sander), 1b
 Thurston, 3b

Faulty Fielding Costs Maple Nine Another Battle

By TOM ALLEN

Attempting to start a winning streak, the Birmingham baseball team again saw hopes blasted as faulty fielding made way for a 7-3 defeat at the hands of Mt. Clemens last Friday. This is the Maples' second loss in two outings and their fifth of the year against two wins.

Sports Showup

By BOB BERGES

Congratulations to the track team on its upset victory in the regionals at Ypsilanti Saturday. It seemed too much to expect that the team could repeat last year's victory after losing so many outstanding performers through graduation. Special honors go to first placers Fred Phister, Mel Blossom, Bill Old, and relay quartet composed of Marcotte, Watts, Old, and O'Connor.

The baseball team also includes some exceptional players. Bud Keller, left fielder and clean-up man, is currently sporting a .526 batting average. Keller is a .300 hitter last year, but it seemed hardly possible for anyone to achieve such a tremendous pace again this year.

Also meriting consideration is Don Little's .411 average. Little, Maple right fielder, was unable to maintain an average over 100 last year, and his hitting shows him as one of the most improved players on the ball club.

The iron-man performance of Jim Watt, who has pitched six out of seven ball games, is exceptional. Not only has he pitched most of the time, but he has limited the opposition to fewer than two earned runs per game.

The tennis team, which has received less publicity than the other spring sports teams, is having a good season. Three lettermen and four experienced players back provide a capable, well balanced team as is proved by victories over Royal Oak and Pontiac, two good net camps.

The golf team got off to a late season start last Monday, meeting Pontiac and coming back with a losing score of 4-1.

Seniors Are Off On Big Boat Trip To Niagara Falls

For 119 seniors, today is perhaps one of the biggest days of the year, as 11 o'clock this morning marked the beginning of a trip which will have been awaited for many weeks.
 Because it is the first class to miss a Washington trip, this year's senior class of Baldwin high school will compensate for the loss with an equally exciting trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls. The outstanding feature of this trip will be the boat ride to and from Buffalo on the D & C steamer "Greater Detroit."
 With every minute detail planned by the student committee and the senior advisors, the class took a bus to Detroit this morning after lunch at the school cafeteria at 11 o'clock.
 The afternoon will be spent at the United Artists' theatre, which was the popular choice of the students.
 The boat will leave this evening and arrive in Buffalo tomorrow morning. From there the class will take a train to Niagara Falls, where they will spend the day, having lunch at the General Brock Hotel. They will return to Detroit Saturday morning.
 A group of 40 seniors not going on the trip is going with the class to the theatre today and will come back this evening. This group has plans for a "Skip Day" in Detroit Friday.
 The student committee that planned the trip consists of Carmela DiPietro, Dick Beals, Fred Booth, Sue Hick, Harris Ward, Pat Daly, Frank Watts, Conway Adams, Harry Lee, Melvin Boomer, Johnny Wingo, Carol M. Cateburn, Bill Toothaker, and Delores Rogers.
 The advisors accompanying the group are W. S. Toothaker, Miss Ruth Hill, Miss Lucille Dewar, Miss Gerda Hansen, Miss Bertha Robertson, and Rose A. Wagner.

Honor Society Holds Annual Ceremony for Its 9 New Members

By ANNE HALLADAY

The Baldwin chapter of the National Honor Society inducted nine new members into the organization at the semi-annual ceremony Tuesday, May 16. The inductees were Frank Allen, Ella Clark, Louise Cunningham, John Gilbert, Bob Goldman, Polly Hansen, Lloyd Harvey, Ted Mansfield, Mary Jane Stephens.
 Bess Wagner, principal, announced that valedictorian of the June class is Nali Gilbreath and salutatorian, Sally Moke.
 Tom Allen introduced Jim Allen, a charter member of Baldwin's chapter of Quill and Scroll, international honor society for high school journalists, who named those who had held elected to that group. They were Jane Doodie, assistant manager; Ann Doodie, assistant manager; Doris McKee, assistant editor; and the first president, Ed Pender. Other members of the group were: Don McLeese, editor-in-chief of the paper; Tom Wilkins, business manager; and the 1944-45 president and four-year school sports writer for the Equestrian.
 The valedictorian and salutatorian of the year were: Victor Francen and "Hear My Prayer."
 Following the assembly those participating attended a luncheon given by the National Honor Society at the Community House school of honor new members.

War Stamp Sale Is Put Under Way

By BOB BERGES

Starting last Monday in home-room 10 Baldwin high school inaugurated the new War Bond and Stamp drive, with a salesman in each home-room every day through next Tuesday selling stamps. This method has been adopted to avoid confusion in the Bond Drive assembly next Wednesday. A goal of one dollar per person in stamps has been set.
 The quota given to Baldwin, for the present drive is $400. That is twice the amount sold in the last drive, which beat all previous records.
 Beginning Thursday each home-room will have at least one bond salesman. These salesmen will be out soliciting sales from house-to-house in the city as well as at school, and it is felt that Baldwin is as good a medium through which to buy bonds as any place. The determination to make Buy Bonds at Baldwin a habit.
 The following are the stamp salesmen in the home-rooms: Nancy Adams, Betty Galy, Jack Beagle, Jennie Melmoth, Ray Bell, Kay Zint, Shep Crisp, Tom Cookerly, Kay Brumbaum, Andy Brumbaum, Ralph Backus, Frank Allen, Bill Harley, Doris Minks, M. L. Charles Galey, Max Cornish, and Ronald Chapman.
 Bond salesmen will be named later in the week.
