

School Operetta Pleases Audience Friday Evening

By Mary Jayne Mathews

We came, we waited—up went the curtain and the many girls and boys who greeted the stage setting and lighting effects with beyond expectations. The high school operetta "Sonja" was presented at Baldwin auditorium on Friday evening.

It was a garden on the campus of a college, a beautiful afternoon in May with girls in pretty summer dresses and boys in college array which added to the picture.

The opening chorus, "Our College Days" led by Peggy a cello and played by Joan Pasher who was in good form, gave the impression that they were off to a good start. So we relaxed and enjoyed a restful performance. All of the cast and those in the chorus seemed at home on the stage and moved about with ease and assurance. Harry Wagner and William Schormerhorn claimed attention in the chorus numbers.

Gwen Chapman in the title role of Sonja carried her part through to the end with a sweet singing voice and entered into her performance as queen of the campus with seeming ease and genuine enjoyment.

Ted Mansfield as Pat Dunn, a handsome football captain in love with Sonja, gave a good account of himself. His bit of acting and singing in the number "Clinging Vine" with Maurice and Veda provoked much merriment.

Maurice, a college sophomore with a stage presence not to be overlooked was played by Jack Milne, who walked through his role as if it had been written especially for him.

Juanita Gerster, well cast as Veda a cosmetic artist, made a stunning and contrasting figure in the song "Fascination" with the girls' chorus.

We all liked the prime lead of a fashionable lady, Martha Mayflower, portrayed by Nancy Meridian, with a flair for the part and a stage speaking voice which never left us in doubt for a minute

GIRL SCOUTS

By MARGARET BARNEY

There are 430 Girl Scouts in Birmingham and near vicinity. This represents an increase of 132 per cent. There has been a 190 per cent increase in membership on the council during the last year.

The crying need is for leaders. Local residents are asked to plan to go about your shopping with an open heart and lots of change on June 3rd for this is the date to enlist your girls to join the Girl Scout activities in Birmingham cost $1,000 a year.

Troop Four

Troop 4 at Quanton made Mother's Day presents at their last meeting. These were memo pads with pencil holders and were made of oil-cloth attached with yarn. Twenty-five of these girls went on a bird walk at 7 o'clock Saturday morning. The time from 6 to 8 p. m. is the best for seeing birds. Later they scatter and go about their daily duties and are not so good every minute, giving and taking cues like a veteran.

Victor Ulrich is quite "The Man about Town" in the circles and without doubt he deserves more credit for the training of our youth than any other. He also has an obligation in setting an example for the youth in forming a habit of knowing how much effort, time, strength and thought go into one of these good things. Our young people need more such musical times for them.

Troop Twenty

Monday, the 8th, Troop 20 had its investiture. The following girls were invested: Diana Bell, Karan Bell, Barbara Averill, Carol Ando, Sally Collins, Marilyn Huff, Mary Don, Margaret Wood, Carol Rosenberg, Betty Osler, Peggy Tolzien, Cynthia Richter and Aletia Gardner. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. B. W. Waterbury on Williamsburg road. The patrol leaders, Joanne Burdick, Margaret Vose and Norma Waterbury were hostesses. Mary Gilchrist assisted. A gift of money was presented to the troop by Carolyn Ando, from her father.

Brownie Troop 15

Brownie Troop 15 of Pierce school climaxed its year's activities Monday evening, May 15, with its May Dinner in the Girl Scout room at the Community House. Each Brownie had her duties for the evening but all had time to participate in the games and songs planned by the entertainment committee. Mary Bowden, Janice Brown, Beverly McCullough, Margaret Wood, Nancy Richardson took part in a "fly up" ceremony May 9th and are now Girl Scouts but took part in the planning and carrying through of the project. The food committee consisting of Barbara Webster, Nancy Gailliam, and Janet Cary, with the help of their mothers, planned and served a menu of meat loaf, creamed potatoes with new peas, and salad, which was supplemented by biscuits, fruit punch, cookies and sherbet. The table was seasonally decorated with a May Pole in front and white by a committee headed by Sandra Puls. Corsages of wild and garden flowers were presented to all guests and special thanks were given to the hostesses for the program were the guest speakers, Mrs. Frank Webb, who told of the meaning of Girl Scout Laws, and Mrs. D. Huxey, who told the Brownie Story. Lights were turned off and candles burned around the "wishing well" where the Brownies gathered round to hear the age-old story which represents the beginning of the meaning of Brownie Scouting. Special thanks were given to two Girl Scouts, Mary Richards who helped with the arrangements, and Sue Turgey who led the group singing. The leader of Troop 15 is Mrs. Charles L. Richards.

Register May 20 For Kingswood's Summer Institute

Pre-registration day for the summer classes of Kingswood Summer Institute of Kingswood School Cranbrook, will be held this Friday, May 20, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. at five o'clock at the school in Bloomfield Hills. Enthusiastic interest is already being shown by women and girls of Birmingham and the surrounding communities.

Classes are held from nine to one o'clock Monday through Friday, which allows for interesting combinations of courses during the morning. Students of typing and shorthand will be able in the six weeks term to reach a degree of proficiency to satisfy many practical needs. There will be many practical courses in the classes, including cooking, sewing and advanced growing emphasis on languages and recognition of their importance in the world of today. French and Spanish. There is a course in current history and world affairs, designed to present a thorough background for the present world situation, as well as a review and evaluation of up-to-date historical events. Combined with the daily lecture of one hour, the class will have a discussion and question period.

A two-hour course in photography will be given two days a week. Photographic supplies will be available for the students in this course.

A combination of studies and recreation, tennis and swimming, has attracted many of those already registered.

The possibility of special bus transportation to the school will depend upon individual demand.

Serve eggs often in omelets, scrambled with tomatoes, scalloped with macaroni, baked, or in angel food or sponge cake.
