Barnum School

This afternoon at 2 o'clock there is to be a meeting of all mothers of children who are to start school at the Barnum kindergarten next autumn. The session will be in the kindergarten room of the school and will be directed by Miss Dena Hallock and Mrs. Anyce Gillette, the city nurse, will give a talk on health problems. Mothers have been asked to bring their children and, during the meeting, the little folk will be supervised by a group of older girls from the junior high school. Following the meeting the tea is to be in charge of the Barnum Parent Teacher association with Mrs. Max Roensch and Mrs. Newell Allen planning to give short talks during the tea hour. Mrs. John Lunberg, Mrs. John Brennan and Mrs. Max Roensch.

Holy Name School

The last activity for the year of Holy Name's Parent Teacher Association was a card party held Friday evening in the school hall. Mrs. Bernard Lourim was chairman of the party and she was assisted by Mrs. V. J. Farde.

Door prizes were donated by the Nan Pegan Hat Shop, Ritter's Birmingham Fruit Co., and Adams Greenhouse.

Colorful Spring Flowers On Altar For Evening Rites

Before an altar decorated with colorful baskets of spring flowers and tall cathedral candelabra, Mary Garfield, daughter of

Mrs. Robert C. Johnson

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert L. Garfield, of Aspen road, became the bride of Robert C. Johnson, son of Mrs. C. H. Johnson, of Chicago, in the Redeemer Lutheran church last Saturday evening. The Rev. Theodore Wurgazer, Jr., officiated at the 7:30 o'clock wedding.

The bride was lovely in her gown of ogeshell satin fashioned with a tight bodice and finished with a dainty ruffle of lace around the low neckline. The very full skirt ended in a train and her veil of illusion, which was held in place by a tiny cap, was the length of the train. Her bridal bouquet was of white spring flowers, centered with a white orchid.

Kathryn Ibsen, of Hamden, Conn., maid of honor, was gowned in yellow marquisette and carried a colonial bouquet of spring flowers with blue the predominating color. Mrs. William Geidt and Corrine Sonnefeldt, also attending the bride, wore hyacinth blue dresses styled with satin bodices and chiffon skirts. They carried colonial bouquets of spring flowers with yellow the predominating color. All three were clusters of yellow and blue flowers in their hair.

Donald Brown, of Ann Arbor, was best man and William Garfield, of Birmingham, and Parke Huffman, of Detroit, seated the guests.

Mrs. Garfield chose a pale blue silk suit with a large white hat and a corsage of pink carnations and cornflowers. Mrs. Johnson's gown was of rose chiffon with a matching hat and her corsage was of gardenias.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony. Marion Greenhow and Mrs. Donald Brown presided at the long bride's table which was centered with a large wedding cake.

When the couple left for treir honeymoon in Cleveland, O., Mrs. Johnson wore a coral dress under a gray pin stripe coat with a white hat and accessories. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

They will make their home at 7703 Sheridan road, Chicago, Ill.

Out of town guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Peter Rennie, of Windsor, Ont., and the groom's grandfather, John G. Johnson, of Racine, Wis.
