Players Take Show To Romulus Air Base Monday Night

For the first time in many a year the Village Players went on the road when they repeated their recent show, "My Darling Daughter," to about 275 service folks at the Romulus Air Base theatre, Monday night.

A great deal of cooperation was shown the cast, all of the props being furnished from materials right at the base. The group, however, took their own hand props. The cast were dinner guests at the Officers' Club preceding the show. The cast included Mrs. Elliott St. Kinney, Mrs. Richard deBontin, Mrs. Donald Bell, Mrs. Benjamin Brewster, Carl V. Trueman, Truman Strong and Gordon Baker. The staff included Mrs. Henry Hart, director; Mrs. Truman Strong, assistant director; Mrs. Walter Skinner, make-up; Mrs. Charles D. McCall, lines; and Henry Hart, sound effects.

Mr. Kinney and two guests from Detroit and Gordon Baker and Mrs. William Martin also went over from Birmingham to see the performance.

Armistice Day To Be Kept At St. James'

Armistice Day will be kept at St. James church as a day of prayer and meditation. The church will be open from 8 to 3 o'clock for private devotion. A special leaflet will be available for all who care to use it.

This Sunday will be Loyalty Sunday at St. James and all members of the parish are being urged to be present.

Plan Bazaar for Christ Church Luncheon Meeting Enjoyed By Baptist Women Thursday

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Union of the First Baptist church was held Thursday, Nov. 7, beginning with its White Cross work at 10:30.

Luncheon at 1 o'clock, hostesses for which were Mrs. E. D. Simpson, Mrs. Cora Austin, Mrs. F. D. Gouldburg, Mrs. Allen McGinnis, Mrs. Carroll B. Griffin, Mrs. William C. McPhail and Mrs. Robert E. Knotts. From group one, was followed by the business meeting presided over by the president, Mrs. R. D. Hopkins. Mrs. Norman H. Moseley led the program for the day under the subject of "World Christians United for Peace" and "Christian Friendliness."

Mrs. John H. Burket presided the program with devotions, taking as her theme, the matter of giving, and presented three resolutions: "Why should we give," "What Shall We Give," and "How Shall We Give?" We are indebted to God," said Mrs. Burket, and supported her answer to her first question with quoting John 3:16. As to her second and third questions, Mrs. Burket went on to say that we should give of our hearts and the best we have, as we would to a loved and honored friend, giving systematically and regularly. "Upon the first day of the week, let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no blemishings when I come."

Quoting from various pamphlets, Mrs. Mosey emphasized that transportation, Christian centers in great cities, and the English language, better known and used universally used than any other, will be some of the avenues of opportunity for the church in the shrinking post-war world, to promote global brotherhood and to give all men more closely together.

The meeting was concluded by the singing of hymns and prayer by Mrs. Peter M. McKay.

Williams-Flannery Nuptials Read At St. Hugo of The Hills

St. Hugo of the Hills church was the setting for the lovely fall wedding of Katherine Nancy Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Perry Williams, of Bloomfield Hills, and Ensign Walter Richard Flannery, Jr., USNR, son of Mrs. George E. Baldwin of Orchard Lake and the late Walter R. Flannery, Saturday.

The service was read by the Rev. Father Daniel T. Wadhwa at 11 o'clock before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums and huckleberry foliage. Large vases of white chrysanthemums marked the middle aisle of the church to complete the decoration.

The bride, who was accompanied down the aisle and given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of heavy candlelight satin fashioned with a fitted bodice with deep V-neckline, long fitted sleeves and full skirt which extended into a court train.

The neckline and upper sleeves were distinguished by a scroll design of self cording. Her tulle veil fell from a Duchess collar which was worn by her sister, Mrs. Philip Maxwell, at her wedding last summer. The bride's bouquet was a cluster of white violets with ribbon showers.

The matron-of-honor, Mrs. Charles E. Reutter, Jr., sister of the bridegroom, was dressed in moonstone blue tulle styled with fitted bodice and a full skirt over a hoop. Sapphire blue velvet outlined the neck and hip lines and with this she wore short cuffs with velvet cuffs. Joan Viall, of Milwaukee, maid-of-honor, was dressed exactly like Mrs. Reutter. They wore small cloths of cut-out blue velvet with scoops of matching veiling and carried bouquets of sweetheart roses and violets.

Barbara Higbie, Barbara Booth, Shirley Craig and Gloria Gaudin, of Jackson, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaids were dressed like the honor attendants in dusty rose tulle with garnet velvet trim.

Lt. Charles Reutter, Jr., was best man and seating the guests were George C. Shepherd, Capt. Richard Shepherd, Charles C. Carey, John R. MacManus, and Eugene Flannery.
