Plans Under Way For Birmingham Women to Assist with Russian Relief

Mrs. John R. Ormond, of North Woodward avenue, was hostess Monday afternoon to a group of Birmingham women who met to discuss the program of Russian War Relief, Inc., and ways in which Birmingham can be of assistance in obtaining and shipping articles of relief to the suffering and destitute millions of the Soviet Republics.

Mrs. Dorothea Helander, Executive Secretary of the Detroit Russian War Relief committee, told the group about the organization of the agency, pointing out it is a member of the National War Fund and also of the President's Relief Control Board having the number "847." It is the one organization authorized by both the American government and that of the Soviet Republics to ship relief supplies to Russia. It co-operates closely with local War Chests in their efforts to raise funds for all needy people in war torn areas.

Mrs. Collothe Krasovsky, a native Russian, but now a citizen of the United States, held the group spellbound as she told of the women and children of Russia, and their contribution to the way of life. With all of the able-bodied men engaged in fighting, the farm and factory work has to be carried on by the women and children. It is great in the need of the military that civilian needs have been ignored. Mrs. Krasovsky said that the vast areas of Russia which had been devastated by the German and now liberated, lacked everything, even such ordinary things as pins and needles and buttons and thread. These can only be supplied through the kits that Russian War Relief, Inc. is sending out as rapidly as they are filled.

Mrs. Krasovsky told of a kit which she had received during the revolution when she was with the White Russians. She said "I will appreciate what the people of Russia feel for Americans who are helping them for I, too, received some of their thoughtful gifts and I treasure them as if they were my own."

Mrs. Grace Aderente, who is in charge of the work shop of the United States, held the committee pointed out ways in which the women of Birmingham can help in the relief work.

Some of these ways are: contributing to the War Chest, filling family emergency kits, making clothing, forming sewing groups to make new clothing from materials supplied by Russian Relief, Inc. This includes knitting sweaters, helmets, mittens and socks.

During the question period which followed the talk by Mrs. Krasovsky, the group of women present called on Mrs. Earl Cunningham, president of the Birmingham Council of Church Women to present the project to the Council Board and through it to the church women of Birmingham in the hope that the church women of Birmingham will actively participate in this Russian Relief.

Harvest Festival to be At St. James' Church

The young people of St. James' will conduct the Annual Harvest Festival service in the church this Sunday, Oct. 6, at 4 p. m. All the members of the church school will bring baskets of garden produce and canned goods which will be presented at the altar in the harvest procession, as symbols of gratitude to God for the fruits of the harvest.

Special music is being inspired by St. Cecilia's choir. All members and friends of the church are cordially invited to this beautiful service.

Next Sunday, Oct. 15, at 8 a. m. the Communicants' League will have their first corporate communion and breakfast for the fall.

Methodist Women To Have Luncheon Meet

Following a business meeting Mrs. Ella Adams will lead in devotion and Victor Ulrich will sing a group of Negro spirituals. Mrs. Melbourne Roberts will talk "On Brown Study."

Tickets may be secured from any of the group leaders.

Adams Teachers And Parents Have Panel Discussion

The Superintendent of Schools, Dwight B. Ireland, and the Principals, Paul Carter, and Teachers of the Adams School had an opportunity Monday night at the P. T. A. meeting to hear what parents consider an "educated child."

The jury panel consisting of Mrs. Robert Kohr, Mrs. Peter Loomis, Mrs. Max W. Roensch, Douglas C. Giles, Karl B. Lars, and F. E. Pomeroy, with Blair K. Swartz as chairman, worked out a definition.

The responsibility of the school was clearly set forth. "Reading, Riting, and Rithmetick" can not be too greatly emphasized during the early years of a child's development. It was pointed out, Mrs. Loomis said, "Reading should be so easy, it is a pleasure."

The discussion of arithmetic brought out the fact that this subject is not only an essential tool in a scientific world, but also has the elements of mental discipline. Mrs. Giles said, "It will learn early in life that two plus two is not four or approximately, but exactly four."

The panel concluded that "an
