Sure, we're winning the war! But that doesn't mean that the job of building fighting equipment is anywhere near finished. In fact, just the opposite is true here at GMC. The Army has ordered us to step up the production of military trucks because additional thousands are urgently needed to speed soldiers and supplies to the war fronts. We want machine operators, material handlers, assemblers and men for many other types of work. Previous factory experience is not necessary Remember, every job at GMC is vital to the war effort. Remember, too, that GMC Truck & Coach Division, the largest exclusive producer of commercial vehicles before
