

Committee Of Flower Show Honored At Tea

A holiday arrangement of pine sprays, white flowers, white fauners and figurines placed upon a mirror was used at one end of the long tea table when Mrs. Hugh D. Backus entertained Monday afternoon at her home on Vaughn drive. Mrs. Ewald Shaffer and Mrs. Aaron H. Webster presided at the tea service. Guests were members of the large committee assisting Mrs. Backus with plans for the Flower Show on Dec. 10 at the Community House, sponsored by the Birmingham Farm and Garden association. Final plans were rounded up to give promise of a gigantic show which is open to the public between the hours of three in the afternoon and nine in the evening.

Judges were chosen by Mrs. Webster and are as follows: Mrs. W. D. Thompson; Mrs. Harold Klein; Miss Clara Snow, of Dearborn; Mrs. George Laming, of Detroit; and Mrs. Walter Fenton and Mrs. Carl Schimmel, of Mt. Clemens. Acting as clerks will be Mrs. M. S. Kice, Jr., Mrs. E. W. Brehm, Mrs. James J. Ferris, and Mrs. George Miller. These two groups will be guests at a luncheon before the show opens, with Mrs. Webster, as hostess for the club. Mrs. Walter Anderson was hostess to the executive board of the club at luncheon last week and was assisted by Mrs. Brehm and Mrs. Mark Kraus.

William J. Lambert Weds Louise Deputy In Virginia

The Rev. Newman officiated at the wedding ceremony which was held in the First Presbyterian church here on Dec. 5. William J. Lambert, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Lambert, of Buckhannon road, on Dec. 5, was united in matrimony to Louise Deputy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brown Deputy, of Waynesboro, Va. The bride was escorted by William J. Lambert, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Lambert, of Buckhannon road, on Dec. 5.

White gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the First Presbyterian church for the eight o'clock candlelight service. Betty Cline came from Washington, D. C., to sing "Oh Promise Me" and "Because" at her cousin's wedding.

Gowned in white duchess satin with a cathedral train, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Seed pearls outlined the square neckline of the gown, and the long sleeves came to points. A fingertip veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap of seed pearls. Louise carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, sweet peas, and orchids, showered with sweet peas tied to satin loops.

Preceding her sister down the aisle as maid of honor was Jeanette Deputy. She wore white net fashioned with sweetheart neckline, and long sleeves. The style of her bouquet was similar to that of the bride's but was of American beauty roses and matching satin ribbons. She wore roses in her hair.

Also in white were the bridesmaids, Joan Forrestal and Mildred Carpenter of Waynesboro, Misses Masters of Lexington, Va., and Barbara Dutch of New Rochelle, N. Y., classmate of the bride at Mary Washington College. Their gowns featured high round necklines and were trimmed in taffeta. Colonial bouquets of mixed pastel flowers, tied with blue ribbon, were carried by the bridesmaids.

Best man for the bride was Mr. Lambert. James Booker and Bill Forrestal of Waynesboro; Seton Charles of Washington, D. C.; and Capt. Garrett Carpenter seated the guests. The bride's brother, Lieut. Marion

Birmingham Musicate Announces Plans For Christmas Program

The Christmas program of the Birmingham Musicate will be presented at the Community House on December 19th at 8 o'clock. The choral ensemble will sing under the direction of Mrs. Gertrude Heinz Greer, and accompanied by Edith M. Mitchell, Mrs. David Ballantine will act as interpreter and soloists include Dorothy Healey Marsh, violinist, and Mary Jane Klebsaddle, cellist. "The Toy Symphony" by Holm, will be conducted by Joseph B. Wolfenden. The program chairman is Mrs. William O. Merrill. She will be assisted by Mrs. H. G. Wood, hostesses are Mrs. Ward Cruickshank, Mrs. Leonard Lewis, Mrs. Arthur Wragoy, and Mrs. W. G. Wellen. Mrs. Elmore Wollering is chairman of the tea. Members are requested to bring gifts, costing $2 or more, to the meeting. The Red Cross camp and hospital committees are asking for Christmas gifts for Percy Jones hospital. They are anxious to make this Christmas the best one yet for the patients. The gifts should be wrapped and labeled. Suggestions made include: bed lamps, watch straps, tin sets, writing kits, cigarette cases, pen and pencil sets, and ballfolds.

Don't forget the Series G Victory Bond. It sells at par and pays 2 1/2% matures in 12 years.

New Home Will Be Open to Inspection

One of the new homes on Bates street, in the Piperschoed section, is to be opened for public inspection Sunday afternoon, Dec. 3, according to Field-Peterson, Inc. "This is the beginning of a 100-home program for new residences on Bates, Washington and Stanley streets, between Lincoln and 1 1/2 Mile road," said H. H. Peterson, Bloomfield Hills, today.

"This first new home of ours in Birmingham is the 416th home constructed under what we term the 'controlled neighborhood plan.' Each home is especially designed by an architect.
