Cynthia Pierce Speaks Vows To Lt. Warner L. Forsyth, Jr.

Before the altar of Christ Church Cranbrook, decorated with white gladioli, lilies and candelabra, Cynthia Ellen Pierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar S. Pierce, of Farmington, and Lt. Warner L. Forsyth, Jr., USAF, son of the Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Forsyth, of Wilminton, drove, spoke their marriage vows Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock.

The Rev. Mr. Forsyth, assisted by the Rev. Charles H. Odigan, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Cynthia, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of gleaming white satin styled along Victorian lines and accented at the waist line by a tiny satin sash. The neckline was heart shaped and the long sleeves tapered to points at the wrists. Her exquisite wedding veil, which fell into a long train, was of chantilly lace from her mother's wedding gown and was applied on ivory tulle. She carried orchids and camellias.

The seven bridesmaids were gowned in powder blue chiffon fashioned with tight fitting bodices and quaint little ruffle bustles with ruffles to the hems of their skirts. With the exception of the matron of honor, they all wore tiny blue felt hats trimmed with powder blue ostrich tips, and carried small bouquets of American beauty roses on satin. The matron of honor wore a tiny hat of American beauty and powder blue ostrich tips and carried

Berkley Girl Speaks Vows February 10th At St. John's, R. O.

Glennetta L. Berquist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Berquist, 2561 Kensington, Berkley, became the bride of Robert Uno Fredrickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Uno Fredrickson, of Royal Oak, Mich., at a candlelight service at 8 p. m. Feb. 10, in the St. John's Episcopal church of Royal Oak.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was crowned in white satin. Her finger tip veil fell from coronet of tiny satin flowers. She carried calla lilies. Laurene Berquist, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore an aqua gown of satin and net with matching tiara. Her flowers were roses and daisies. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Lawrence L. Bingham and Mary McHugh, were gowned in gold and wore matching tiaras and Marian Damery and Dorothy Higginbotham, in identical gowns of rose with matching tiaras. They also carried roses and daisies.

Barbara Malott, cousin of the bride, dressed in blue tulle, was flower girl and Buddy Malott was ring bearer. The best man was Robert L. Randall, Ushers were Edward Rose, Kenneth Kinkley, Bill Volter and Herb Comisky. The bride's mother wore a black dress with pink accessories and a corsage of camellias. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in a pale blue dress with gold accessories and a corsage of camellias. A reception for approximately 200 people was held in the church parlor.

Display of Forced Branches Greets Garden Club Group

Monday's meeting of the Birmingham Branch of the Women's Forced Branches Club was a delightful preview of spring. Among the forced branches were Forsythia, flowering cherry, almond, pussy willow, and even straggles in beautiful bloom. There was a display of forced branches in the garden club group.

Mrs. Campbell talked on "The Garden Birds in Your Garden" and especially urged garden lovers to become more bird conscious and to encourage them. After her talk Mrs. Campbell showed colored slides of the birds found in this part of the country.

Elizabeth Mitchell, secretary of the Ida R. Hubbard Fund, Inc., gave a short talk on the work being done by the fund. Mrs. Campbell also displayed a collection of forced branches and conducted a roll call. The club members knew Mrs. Lewis C. Dibble placed first in a contest of forced branches and was awarded a trophy by Mrs. F. McKinnay.

The tea table was attractively arranged by Mrs. Lawrence Howe. It was covered with a cloth of flag red sateen. Being Lincoln's birthday, the central motif was a framed placard of part of the first paragraph of his Second Inaugural Address. With firmness they emphasized the patriotic idea, floral arrangements of red carnations and white daisies were placed on the table. Blue napkins and white tapers furthered out the patriotic pattern. Mrs. William C. Howe and Mrs. Henry J. Bean presided. Mrs. J. Underwood was the social chairman for the day.

Washington, D.C., Church Is Scene Of Lovely Wedding

A number of former Birmingham residents now residing in and around Washington, D. C., attended the lovely wedding of Barbara Mott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Welch, Jr., of Saffold road, and Mr. David Bradley Mott, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mott, of Pilgrim road, in St. Albans Episcopal church in Washington Saturday evening, Feb. 10, at 8:30 o'clock. The Rev. C. T. Warner officiated at the service.

Barbara, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin of matching velvet bow and a full court train. Her veil of illusion was fastened to a Juliet cap, which had clusters of orange blossoms on either side, and fell to the end of the train. The bride bouquet was of stephanotis and white orchids.

Maid of honor by proxy was Mary Welch, sister of the bride. Marie Holmes of Montclair, N. J., acted as maid of honor. Her gown was of heavier rose tulle and had a square neckline edged with carriage plaiting. She wore a gown of matching velvet bow and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and blue iris.

Bridesmaids were Shirley Wallace, of Bloomfield Hills, and Susan Tucker, of Bloomfield and Palm Beach, Fla. Both girls wore dresses like the maid of honor but in shade of forget-me-not blue tulle and carried flowers like the maid of honor.

Mrs. Mott, father of the bride groom, with her son, who was Hugh White, of Berkley, a student at Virginia Seminary in Alexandria, Va., and John Mott, of the OCS school at Quantico, who had been a classmate of the bride groom at Dartmouth.

Mrs. Welch chose a gown of forget-me-not gray crepe which had a motif of iridescent beading. Her hat was of matching veiling and American beauty trim. She wore a pink trimmed gown of heavier gray trimmed with darker gray veiling. Her flower was a pink orchid also.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Pan American room of the Hotel Statler. Pfc. and
