Moms Club Will Hear Anchorettes

The Detroit Navy Anchorettes will appear at the Community House Feb. 14 under the sponsorship of the MOMS Club. Approximately 30 girls will be featured in this Valentine's Day performance. The public is invited.

The organization of the Detroit Navy Anchorettes was started shortly after Pearl Harbor and has grown to 110 members, all of whom have relatives in the United States armed forces. The girls are all high school graduates with recommendations from their spiritual advisers and employers. The rules of the corps are rigid—no drinking, smoking or gum chewing while in uniform, and deportment must be of the highest caliber at all times.

The unit has entertained the boys in hospitals in the vicinity of Detroit and throughout lower Michigan and has given support to many other wartime activities.

GIRL SCOUTS

BY MARGARET BARNEY

Brownie Troop 16 has had a varied program during December and January.

On January 29 the meeting took the form of a winter hike to the Library where Mrs. Poucher told an interesting story.

Girl Scouts of Troop 20 and Brownies of Troop 21 had a Brownie Fly Up. Mary Christen of Girl Scout and Margaret Seyforth, a Brownie, The Brownies and Girl Scouts then had their respective meetings. The Girl Scouts danced, Margaret Vose demonstrated the correct way to walk, sit, and get acquainted at parties, as part of certain badge requirements.

Five Brownies of Troop 19, Mary VanFleet, M. E. Latham, Patricia Warner, Barbara Webster, and Judith Grimshaw flew up into Scout Troop 7, on Tuesday, January 30th.

Troop 7 held a Board of Review at Mrs. S. E. Ross' home on Monday afternoon at 4:00. All second class members of the troop are having a hall room dancing class, under the leadership of Miss Shirley Hersey. These girls are working toward their dancing badges.

The tenderfoot will be working toward their second class badges in the meantime under the direction of their leader.

Over 500 copies of newspapers and magazines were collected by Lemo Troops 2, 3, and 4 of Poppleton school during their paper drive January 28. The girls have decided to share their profits with the children of the poor.

Assisting the Girl Scouts in this project were Jerold Oaks and Frank W. Higley, who donated trucks and time. Another paper pickup is scheduled for late March.

The drive toward earning money for the Infantile Paralysis Fund has been successful. A few troops are up to the head of the parade.

The girls have done many things. They passed canisters for funds at the skating, sold candy, popcorn and baked goods, washed dishes and shovelled snow.

Troop 6 at Adams recently held a toboggan party at Oakland Hills Country Club. Thirty girls attended. Sally Carter, Claire Shinnick, Nancy Kendall and Joyce Beggs put on an exhibition of skating, as part of the work for Girl Scout winter sports badges. The party ended with supper at the club.

Leaders, assistant leaders, and troop committee members are invited to the council meeting which occurs Friday morning at 10:00.

The Pure Food Restaurant WILL CLOSE

FROM FEBRUARY 17 UNTIL APRIL 1

Being unable to find anyone to operate our restaurant, we have decided to close while we go to San Francisco.

We are going to visit Gus Frank, who until 1933 was a partner in the Pure Food Restaurant. The recent death of his son has prompted our decision to make the visit at this time.

MR. AND MRS. JIM FRANK

WATCH FOR OUR RE-OPENING APRIL 1
