

Engagement Told At Flag Day Party

Mary Bronson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl H. Bronson, formerly of Birmingham, now of the Art Centre, Detroit, announced her engagement to Cadet Edward J. Potter, Jr., at a Flag Day party at the Alpha Phi sorority house in Ann Arbor, Thursday night.

Mary is a junior at the University of Michigan and Cadet Potter, son of Edward J. Potter, of Wausau, Wis., and the late Mrs. Potter, also attended the university where he was affiliated with the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity. He is now in naval training at Pensacola, Florida, and will get his commission and wings on the 15th of this month.

A heart-shaped floral arrangement and match books inscribed with the names Ted and Mike revealed the news to Mary's sorority sisters.

Phyllis J. Ahlers Is Bride Of Capt. Joseph B. Cochran

Phyllis Jean Ahlers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Ahlers, of Broadway Blvd., spoke her vows to Capt. Joseph Brice Cochran.

Mrs. Joseph Brice Cochran

U. S. Navy, of Washington, D. C., in a lovely afternoon ceremony at the First Methodist church at 4:30 o'clock Saturday, the Rev. A. P. Runkel officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of pale ivory satin fashioned with a fitted bodice having a sheer high necked yoke which extended into the shoulders in points, and was outlined in seed pearl beading. Long fitted sleeves had points over the wrist and her very full skirt extended into a circular train. A four tiered veil of ivory illusion fell from a seed pearl coronet, and her bouquet was of white orchids, valley lilies, and stephanotis.

Mrs. Gerald K. Ahlers, of Cincinnati, matron of honor, and Alice Grier, of Statesville, N. C., bridesmaid, wore matching bouffant gowns of heaviest blue marquisette and identical tulle hats which had small clusters of flowers on each side. They carried bouquets of colonial and nestle flowers.

Capt. Gerald K. Ahlers was best man and ushers were Edward Nelson and Jack Cochran, of Monroe, N. C.

Mrs. Ahlers' gown was of aquamarine chiffon and lace, and her small hat was of matching straw. She wore an orchid corsage.

Following the reception held at the bride's home on Broadway boulevard the young couple left for Washington, D. C. For traveling Mrs. Cochran chose a black

Christ Church Is Scene Of Rainbow Wedding

In a candlelight service before an altar beautifully decorated with white poinsettias and clematis fern Clover Babcock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving B. Babcock, of Long Pine road, spoke her vows to Miss Philipp James Henry Weeks, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rodney Weeks, of Glenary road, at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening at Christ Church, Cranbrook. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Warner L. Forbush and the Rev. Charles H. Cadigan.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her dress was Southern Belle style, a Sophie original of deep ivory satin. A ruffle of rosepoint lace went off the shoulders and down to a deep slit in front with a sheer yoke from the ruffle to the high neckline. The dress had long fitted sleeves. Little bows were scattered over the very full skirt which extended into a long circular court train. Her veil of rosepoint lace which fell to the end of her train, was held in place by a small Juliet cap of blue and orange blossoms. She carried white orchids and stephanotis.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Vinton, wore an orchid gown of silk net over tulle, with a tight bodice and very full skirt. Her small matching hat was of ostrich tips and her flowers were orchid larkspur, orchid stock and yucca lily orchids.

The bridesmaids wore gowns and hats identical to that of the matron of honor's only in different colors of the rainbow. Mrs. Charles T. Van Dusen III wore a gown of green and her bouquet was of white larkspur, white stock and ivy vines. Nancy Hillis, of New York, wore pale blue and her flowers were two shades of blue delphinium. Susan Tucker, of Palm Beach, Fla., and Bloomfield Hills, was dressed in yellow and carried yellow daisies. Elmer Paton, of Dearborn, wore a gown of pink and her bouquet was of pink larkspur and pink carnations.

The two flower girls, Ann Jackson Alexander and Joan Babcock Vinton, wore similar dresses of white embroidered batiste with rainbow sashes and carried small colonial bouquets made up of all the different flowers that the attendants carried. They wore a alpacasuit with a liberty silk blouse and a small hat of light straw. She wore an orchid from her bouquet as her corsage.

Among the out of town guests were Miss Gracia Cochran, Monroe, N. C., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grier and daughter, Alice, of Statesville, N. C.

Engagement Made Known On Sunday

A cocktail party Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Bull, of Linden road, was the scene of the announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Emelle, to Frederick Robert Sewin, A/S, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Sewin, of Madison Avenue.

Frederick is a member of the Navy V-12 training program at Ann Arbor and Dorothy will be a senior at Michigan State college this fall.

Mrs. James Henry Weeks

W. Sanders, Dick Strickland, of Detroit, the Rev. Robert DeWitt, of Ypsilanti, Robert Vinton, J. Reed Alexander, and Hugh White.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Babcock wore a gown of dusty pink lace and a small pink hat. Her corsage was of deep fuchsia orchids. The bridegroom's mother chose a gown of pale gray with a small pink and blue hat and she wore two hybrid orchids.

Following a lovely reception at the Bloomfield Hills Country club the young couple left for New York. For traveling Mrs. Weeks chose a beige suit and hat under a beige topcoat with a red fox collar. Her accessories were green and she wore an orchid from her bouquet as her corsage.
