

University Memorial Presented To Wife Of Lt. Don E. Morgan

Honoring her husband, Lt. (j.g.) Donald Edwin Morgan, U. S. Naval Air Forces, a memorial presented by the University of Michigan has been received by Mrs. Mary DeMong Morgan, 967 Southfield road.

Lieutenant Morgan, who died as a result of mid-air collision while on training flight off California coast near St. Nicholas Island April 7, 1944, received a B.S. degree from the University in 1941.

The memorial says: "Donald Edwin Morgan 'The University of Michigan has placed this name upon the roll of those students and alumni who, in the fine tradition of loyalty and self-sacrifice established by former generations, served their country in time of peril and have given their lives in defense of our national liberties. It will forever be held in honor. To the family and friends who have suffered bereavement, the Regents and faculties of the University offer their deepest sympathies."

It is signed by Alexander G. Ruthven, president; and Shirley W. Smith, secretary.

Thus far 217 have given their lives and the University has sent these memorials to their families.

Murphy is a grand old name, and St. Patrick's last name might have been Murphy. At any rate, Mrs. E. A. Murphy of Franklin has chosen the occasion of St. Patrick's Day to open her gift shop in Franklin. To a good Irishman nothing can go wrong on St. Patrick's Day, and they are right. At any rate, they play awfully nice music over the radio on that day and everyone likes those Irish songs that were written in America.

Plan The Garden For Year's Needs

Garden planning time is here. It has arrived in Birmingham. Most important feature of the Victory Garden plan is provision for an adequate supply of fresh vegetables until the frost comes.

O. I. Gregg, extension specialist in horticulture, Michigan State college, who spoke in Birmingham last season in the interests of horticulture, says that a garden 25 by 50 feet in size or larger, if properly planned, is sufficient to supply a year's fresh, canned, and stored vegetable needs for a family of three. However, fresh vegetables must take up just enough room to provide the amount needed.

Succession planting makes it possible to grow certain vegetable crops without providing additional space. For example, peas for canning should be planted as early as the ground can be worked, with tomatoes following in the same location. Peas stand freezing without ill effect, and are harvested before the tomatoes are planted. A number of Birmingham gardeners are planning to use this plan.

Short season crops, like lettuce and radishes, take up little room and can be planted far enough apart to permit growing long season crops between the rows.

Date cabbage, brussels sprouts and broccoli are important crops that can be used direct from the garden late in the fall.

For canning, the vegetables that are economical of space in the garden are snap beans, tomatoes, peas, chard, beets, broccoli, carrots, cabbage, sweet corn, cucumbers, and green beans.

Birmingham families are being urged by the Victory Garden committee to can or deep freeze an ample supply of vegetables for their family use this season.

The National Safety Council estimates that 25,000,000 man-days are lost annually by farmers through accidents.

Bloomfield Paper Drive Being Arranged Into Regular Routes

The task of gathering in the paper and clothing salvage for March is now under way in Bloomfield Hills. There the committee is operating from a master notification list, telling each family of the day the Goodwill trucks will call for their salvage.

The committee asks that each family have its contributions out on the day specified. Regular routes have been set up for all sections of the city. Persons who do not receive notices or those who are pressed for time are notified by notices which come incorrectly to the committee if residents will phone 1693.

There is no collection of prepared in cans in the Hills. Each family must take its prepared cans to the barrels at the intersection of Quarton and Cranbrook or Maple and Labor roads. The barrels will be out again on April 6, the committee announced.

Cranbrook Sets Date For Opening Of Its Summer School Term

Cranbrook School for Boys at Bloomfield Hills has announced a summer session of eight weeks from June 25 to Aug. 18. The program is planned especially to meet the needs of boys who must accelerate their high school or preparatory school program in order to graduate before entering military service.

Classes which are scheduled Mondays through Saturdays are of two-hour duration and each class is supported by a two-hour study period.

W. Brooke Stabler, Cranbrook headmaster, advises all boys who are not students at Cranbrook during the regular school year, to consult their school principal as to what courses and credits will be acceptable toward graduation from their own schools.

Salvage Pickup Is On Regular Schedule

The Birmingham DPW, handling the salvage pickup through regular rounds once a month, reports an error in a recent announcement in the Eccentric by the salvage publicity committee concerning dates for salvage pickup.

As a result some prepared cans and white glass has been left at the curbs in some sections of the city.

Paper salvage is picked up the first Friday of each month and all other salvage is picked up on the last regular rubbish pickup day of the month in the five districts into which the city is divided.

Residents are again asked to put out all salvage, except paper, on the last regular rubbish pickup day for their areas of the city.

Grass Fires Are Causing Damage

Birmingham is just now having an epidemic of grass and brush fires and while damage thus far has not been severe many fears are expressed that one of these days such a fire will get beyond control and set fire to some valuable property.

Asked today to comment on the situation Fire Chief Vernon W. Griffith said: "Because of the heavy blanket of snow this past winter, all dry grass heavily matted on the ground and of the great number of grass fires we have had this month, all have an very fast and difficult to control.

"Small children should be kept out of fields where there is a heavy growth of this grass. "People burning rubbish should be very cautious and watchful to keep these fires from igniting grass.

"People desiring to burn grass should apply to the Fire Department (as required under ordinance) any time, day or night, for grass-burning permits. These permits cost nothing and are issued when conditions are right for burning."
