

Men In The Service

LANDS ON OKINAWA
OKINAWA (Delayed) — Marines from this area were among the first aviation men to participate in the initial phases of this island battle. Among those landing were Corporal William F. Roberts, 21, son of Dr. Frederick J. Roberts, 515 Harmon avenue, Birmingham, Mich. The Marines landed on the western coast of Okinawa close to the hanks of the infantry and moved 1,200 yards inland where they established operations on the site of the former Jap bomber strip at Yontan airport. Col. Roberts is engaged in the operation of the air line and the servicing and repair of the planes using the base.

RETURNS TO MIAMI BEACH
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Sgt. Norman C. White, 23, Birmingham, Mich., has been assigned to the Air Force Redistribution Station No. 2 in Miami Beach for reassignment processing after completing a tour of duty outside the continental United States. Following a visit in Birmingham, Sgt. and Mrs. White are now back here. She likely will return home in about a week. Sergeant White flew 48 missions over Europe as an assistant engineer-pilot and was credited with three oak leaf clusters. His wife and two children live at 288 Ravenna road, Birmingham. Sergeant White entered the Army in November, 1943.

Pierce School Is Safety Cup Winner

William Atkins, captain of Pierce school's Safety Patrol, is today the proud winner of a $25 war bond because he and his group of safety workers won outstanding recognition in competition with other schools of this area. The bond was presented by Automobile club of Michigan in cooperation with John H. Springman, school principal.

The safety cup awarded to schools on the basis of contacts in safety teaching went to Pierce for the best period of work during the past year. Pierce also won the cup for Birmingham the year previous. The cup will be officially presented early next autumn.

Presentation of the war bond to young Atkins was made May 21 by Floyd A. Webb, assistant safety director for the Auto club.
