Men's Club Plans Christmas Party

The Presbyterian Men's club, at its meeting last Thursday night, announced plans for its annual Christmas party on Thursday evening, Dec. 20, at the church dining room. The program committee promised one of the finest programs of the year.

The speaker for last Thursday was Ralph L. Lee, 938 Lakeside, member of the employee cooperation staff of General Motors. He took for his subject "Facing Facts in Employee Relations," and told the 85 men attending of the need for obtaining and using all facts available in establishing worth while relations between employer and employee.

Mr. Lee proved highly entertaining as well as instructive and helpful and at the close of his talk received many congratulations from the men attending.

James Patterson Weds Barbara Duncan

Mr. and Mrs. Victor E. Duncan, of Highland Park, announce the marriage of their daughter, Barbara Jean, to Lt. Col. James R. Patterson, U.S.A.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett W. Patterson, of Southfield road, on Thursday, November 15. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles H. Cadigan in St. Paul's Chapel of Christ Church Cranbrook.

Barbara Jean chose an olive green suit with light brown accessories for her wedding. She wore a corsage of gardenias.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Lillian Pratt, of Detroit, and Mr. Thomas L. Luscombe, Jr., assisted Colonel Patterson as best man.

After a brief wedding trip to Chicago, the couple will make their home at the Highland Towers, 11 McLean avenue, Highland Park.

Dolls From Many Lands On Table At A.A.U.W. Luncheon

Dolls of many nationalities and personalities from the bearded Cotswold Shepherd in his checked wool cloak to the Chinese empress in gold satin and the Ukranian peasant in her emproidered cotton gown ornamented the tables for the A.A.U.W. luncheon which was held in the Community House Nov. 14.

The dolls were from the collection of Mrs. A. A. Appleford, 3188 Bradway boulevard, who was one of the hostesses of the day. The fascinating doll costumes highlighted the subject of the lecture "Dolls" given by Mrs. Owen Goodrich of Wayne University. She gave an interesting preview of glass, milk and coal fabrics of which will be made the warm and beautiful clothes in days to come.

Luncheon hostess was Mrs. Lewis E. Daniels, assisted by Mrs. Paul J. Ziegelbaur, Mrs. A. A. Appleford and Mrs. S. K. Thingstad.

Winged Girl Scouts To See Pictures Of Recent U.S. Air Show

The newly organized Birmingham troop of Senior Girl Scouts known as "Winged Scouts" will see kodachrome pictures of the recent Air Forces Fair at their second meeting at the Community House on Tuesday, Nov. 27, at 7 p. m.

The pictures were taken at Wright Field in Dayton during October by Mrs. Patty McNair Bruce, one of the leaders of the troop. They include shots of the V-1 and V-2 Rocket Bombs, various German and Japanese fighters and bombers, the jet-propelled Shooting Star, the B-29 and other American airplanes.

The business of the evening will include election of the troop officers.

The troop has room for five more girls, fourteen years of age or older. Those who would like to know more about "Winged Scouts" are invited to phone Mrs. Jack Fuller, troop leader, in the Townsend Apartments.

They Do It Up in Bobby Sox

When the supply of hair curlers got low, girls at Kent State University, Kent, O., dreamed up this ingenious substitute—bobby sox knotted in the hair to preserve that beautifying wave. In addition, they say bobby sox are easier to sleep on and do not tend to break the strands of hair. Demonstrators are Almarie Edwards, sitting, and Ramona Swatm.

Ilione Schadt Home On Leave As Red Cross Field Assistant At Okinawa Base

Miss Ilione C. Schadt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ewald K. Schadt of 18621 Devonshire road, Birmingham, assistant field director, American Red Cross, has returned on leave from Okinawa after serving in the Pacific area for the past two years.

Her first assignment was on Espiritu Santo, in the New Hebrides, where she established the first Red Cross recreational facilities at the 122nd Station Hospital. After 13 months at Santo, Miss Schadt flew to New Zealand for her first rest period. This was followed by assignment to Noumea, New Caledonia, with the 27th Station Hospital and subsequent preparations for movement to Okinawa.

As previously reported Miss Schadt landed on Okinawa in the midst of a severe air raid which delayed actual landing for several hours. With two assistants she was the first woman Red Cross worker to land on Okinawa.

This was also the first appearance of Red Cross women under combat conditions in the Pacific area and, during the early stage of the battle, work was carried on just six miles behind the fighting front. While on Okinawa Miss Schadt not only came in contact with a number of Birmingham boys but was able to enjoy visits from her brother, Lt. Ewald K. Schadt, Jr., of the 319th Bomber Group, who was stationed at a nearby air field.

Lieutenant Schadt left Okinawa the same week as his sister and is now stationed in Osaka, Japan, where he is serving as transportation officer of the 317th Troop Carrier Group.

To add to the brother-sister combination of the Schadts on Okinawa, Miss Schadt reports that three nurses within her hospital area also had brothers in service on the island. This is probably a record for any battlefield.

Methodist Group To Meet Nov. 28

The various groups of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church are meeting for luncheons on Wednesday, Nov. 28, at 1:15 p. m.

The Sarah Allen group will meet with Mrs. F. J. Watkins, 836 Knox street. Mrs. John Maynard will entertain the Susanna Wesley group at her home at 919 Mohegan, and Mrs. Willis Mallory will be hostess to the Hattie Evans group at 1825 Pine street.

The Kate Wagner group will meet at the home of Mrs. D. L. Tate at 959 Westchester Way, and Mrs. E. A. Ebersole will meet with the Mary Utter group in her home, 768 Henrietta.

Mrs. Robert Eddy will be hostess to the Wesleyan group at 457 Park street on Tuesday, Nov. 27, at 8 o'clock in the evening. Mr. F. A. Steen of the Institute of Art at Cranbrook will speak on "The Modern Home."

Pierce School Open House Is Success

Parents of children attending Pierce School spent a very enjoyable evening on Wednesday, Nov. 14, when open house night was observed. A large crowd was present and each parent was identified by his name written on a little schoolhouse cut-out card which was pinned on as he visited the classrooms.

Mrs. Ray Brown, president of the Parent Teacher Association, presided at a brief business meeting at which time W. A. Sears explained, in detail, the budget for the year. Mr. Sears, Finance Chairman, also gave details of the stage play, "Janie," which is being sponsored by the Pierce School Parent Teacher Association and presented at Baldwin High School on Friday evening, November 23.

Gerald White, principal of Pierce School, announced the procedure of the tour to the classrooms.

Autumn flowers and tapers in crystal holders decorated the serving tables where parents and teachers enjoyed refreshments.

Mrs. Charles Blunt, mother vice-president and membership chairman, reports a membership of 350 to date.

Dr. Walter Judd to Speak Here Again

At the International Relations class on Tuesday morning, Nov. 27, there will be a review of Dr. Walter Judd's lecture given before the Michigan Educational Association at the Masonic Temple on Nov. 13. Dr Judd's topic was "The Road Ahead" and his emphasis was on China.

Dr. Judd, a representative from the Minneapolis Congressional District, will be remembered by some people in Birmingham for his two appearances here, one on the Birmingham Forum and the other, the International Relations Class Reunion in 1937.

Elbridge Newhalls Are Honored With Farewell Parties

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge Newhall, Jr., who are leaving soon to make their home in California, are bidding them goodbye with a number of farewell parties.

On Saturday, November 10, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Spike, of Glenhurst road, entertained for the Newhalls, and Mrs. Glen Davis, of Pilgrim road honored Mrs. Newhall at an evening bridge party on November 12.

November 14 was the date of a dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Peterson, of Royal Oak, and on Friday, November 16, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Charmanta, also of Royal Oak, were hosts at a combination farewell party and birthday dinner for Mrs. Newhall and her husband.

The Newhalls attended a subscription dinner at Devon Gables on November 17 and took this opportunity to say goodbye to another group of their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis B. Sappington, of Arlington drive, honored the Newhalls at a Sunday night supper in their home on November 18. Among the invited were Mr. and Mrs. Craig Richey, Mr. and Mrs. Johnathan Ball, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beale, the J. H. Walkers and the Elmore Wollerings, Mr. and Mrs. W. Clifton Randall, Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Scheyer, Mrs. Berdith Newhall, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Knowles.

On Tuesday, November 20, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Shain, of Pierce street, had Mr. and Mrs. Newhall to dinner and Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Kern, of Cranbrook crossroad, will honor them at dinner on Friday, November 23.

On Monday, November 26, Mrs. W. H. Knowles will give a tea for Mrs. Newhall and her many friends.

Annual Bazaar To Be Held At Troy Center Presbyterian Church

Owing to a fire which completely destroyed the Big Beaver Methodist church on Oct. 24, the Women's Society of Christian Service of that church will hold its annual bazaar and roast beef supper at the Troy Center Presbyterian church on Livernois road, near 17 mile road, on Friday, Nov. 30.

Mrs. Charles Steinbrecher is the Bazaar Chairman and Mrs. Walter Miller is in charge of the supper. Mrs. Steinbrecher will be assisted by Mrs. William Penney, Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mrs. Martin Moore, and Mrs. Walter Klibbe, who are in charge of the fancy work, aprons and quilt sale. Mrs. Walter Carpenter and Mrs. L. Chartier are taking care of the baked goods and plants, and canned goods will be under the direction of Mrs. Isabel Campbell and Clara Strong.

Mrs. John Robb has the toy stuffed animals and dolls booth; Mrs. Richard V. Welch, the white elephants; and Mrs. Charles Streby, the fish pond.

Mrs. Robert Bonino will arrange for the fortune telling and the publicity committee includes Mrs. Walter Carpenter, Mrs. Merritt Hill, and Mrs. Wesley Paull.

Mrs. Frank Hill is chairman of the dining room committee and the kitchen committee has Mrs. W. Miller for its chairman. Supper will be served at 5:30 p. m.

Wool Suit Will Save for Bond

Here's a suit girl can make and wear with pride—a slim-fitting jacket with deep sleeves, snug at the wrists, curved V neckline—fashioned in russet brown wool flannel. Patterns at local stores. Make clothes and put savings into Victory Bonds.

SPEAKS HERE SUNDAY

The Rev. R. Charles Brown, rector of All Saints Church, Windsor, Ont., will be at St. James church, Birmingham, Sunday, Nov. 25, to conduct the services as guest preacher.

Set your personal quota in the Victory Loan $11,000,000,000 campaign, then make it.

Robert Porter To Wed Detroit Girl

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Gould of Detroit were hosts at a family dinner on Sunday, Nov. 18, at which time they announced the engagement of their daughter, Nancy, to Cpl. Robert Haynes Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Latta W. Porter, of Baldwin road.

Heart shaped place cards, with the names of "Nancy" and "Bob" written on them, announced the betrothal to the guests.

Nancy is a graduate of Liggett School and of the University of Michigan, where she was a member of Collegiate Sorosis.

Bob is now on furlough at the home of his parents, after being stationed in Hawaii for more than two years. He attended Cranbrook School and the University of Michigan and is affiliated with Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Mrs. Porter will honor Nancy at a tea in her home on Friday, Nov. 23, and Mrs. Gould will have a cocktail party on Sunday, Nov. 25, to introduce Bob to some of their friends.

There are no immediate plans for the wedding.

TALKS ON BOOKS

The season's most distinctive books will be listed and reviewed by Kathryn Turney Garden speaking at Detroit Town Hall, Wednesday morning, November 28 at 11 o'clock in the Fisher Theatre. Dubbed the "first lady" of book reviewers, Mrs. Garten's third appearance at Town Hall is by popular request. She has won a national as well as a local reputation for her lively dramatic presentation of the reading of the day, and for her keen appreciation of literary values.
