Birmingham Boys Making Good At College Football

Harold Watts, center at the University of Michigan and Ensign Richard Van Dusen, center at the University of Minnesota, both before a big crowd, Saturday, over at the U. of M. Stadium. Both are regular starting centers. Both are naval trainees and may be discharged or moved to other training centers at any day.

On October 27 Watts played a thrilling game at Champaign, Illinois, as Michigan defeated the University of Illinois. Tom Harmon, doing the radio announcing, mentioned Watts repeatedly and the Birmingham lad apparently showed a lot of strength on defense and a big hit in the line on offense.

Another Baldwin star, making a name for himself on service teams, is William Spiegel. Bill was a star at football, baseball and track and carried his athletic abilities right on to the college and service teams.
