

Vocational Guidance Lectures Being Arranged for Future Weeks By School

Are you having trouble with your secretary? Would you like your home redecorated? Then relax and stop worrying. Skilled workers are coming. If the figures recently compiled by the vocational guidance office from tests on preferred occupations mean anything...

The most popular job of the future, it seems, is that of the secretary. There will be seven and one-half secretaries for every 100 people. The next two jobs most preferred were airline hostess and interior decorator, with seven and ten percent for each.
