New Officers and Club Chairmen Told by President

The complete roster of new officers, board members and committee chairmen has just been announced by the new president of the Birmingham branch of the American Association of University Women, Mrs. W. M. Milligan.

New officers for the year 1946-47 include Mrs. Milligan as president; Mrs. George Green as first vice-president; Mrs. Coit Allee, second vice-president; Mrs. E. J. Barney, recording secretary; Mrs. L. D. Stauffer, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. William Carter, treasurer.

Mrs. Irving H. MacKenzie, Mrs. Stanley Saunders, and Mrs. Gilbert Gove are the directors at large, while Mrs. Ralph Scheel is budget director.

Plans for the coming year were also announced by Mrs. Milligan. The AAUW, together with the Birmingham Musicale, the Village Players, and the League of Women Voters, will again sponsor the Community House Lecture Series.

Boxes will be sent to the foregoing members of the International Association of University Women.

New this year is the scholarship fund set up by the AAUW to help provide an education for some underprivileged girl whose family has not the financial means to send her to college. Her progress will be watched from year to year.

Ruth Shain's International Relations Class will continue for the 27th consecutive year.

Under the study groups will be a class in interior decoration and house planning, directed by Mrs. Hans Schjolin, art chairman.

Mrs. Ray Palmer's creative writing group will resume activities in the fall for any and all with a flair for writing.

The Children's Theatre is also included in the study group and will be an important feature of the activities of the coming year. A class in makeup will be taught by Mrs. Paul Averill, Mrs. Charles McCall, and Mrs. Ed Reid.

The Child Study group will again meet under the direction of Mrs. Robert Yingling.

The four book review groups planned for the coming year will be headed by Mrs. F. W. Reynolds, Mrs. J. R. Rathbone, Mrs. A. D. Parney, and Mrs. Forbes Hascall.

Anyone in Birmingham is welcome to join any of the study groups.

The annual AAUW Book Sale will be held in October. All books may be turned in to Mrs. J. E. Williams.

The new committee chairmen are as follows: program, Mrs. Gilbert Gove; hospitality, Mrs. George Finch, publicity, Mrs. Calvin Deninson; year book, Mrs. F. W. Sevin; junior group, Mrs. Douglas Hoard; social, Mrs. Edward McCaul; International Relations group, Mrs. Charles J. Shain; education, Mrs. Ralph B. Beebe; art, Mrs. Hans Schjolin; legislation, Mrs. Gould H. Ayers; social studies, Mrs. William Kegel; historian, Mrs. Robert Watt; student loan, Mrs. W. H. Jackson; fellowship, Mrs. Sheldon Wright.

The Community Council representative will be Mrs. M. H. Smiley; chairman of the annual book sale, Mrs. J. E. Williams. Halloween Party representative will be Mrs. S. S. Pierce; scholarship fund, Mrs. Irving MacKenzie; children's theatre, Mrs. Stanley Saunders; child study group, Mrs. Robert Yingling; creative writing, Mrs. Ray A. Palmer.

Twenty-Plus Club Holds Picnic and Business Meeting

The Twenty-Plus Club of the First Methodist church met Friday, July 26, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Middleditch on West 14 Mile road, for a picnic supper and business meeting.

Mrs. Merritt Olsen and Mrs. Stewart Smith were the committee in charge of the affair.

Guests of the club were George Jackson, Sunday school superintendent, and Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Jack Bullock, teacher of the newly-organized Tuxis class for young women, and Mr. Bullock, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Healy, Mr. and Mrs. Truitt, and Ted Helgren.

Mr. Truitt entertained the club with a group of piano selections and accompanied Mr. Helgren who played the mandolin.

The president, Rudy Schettling, appointed C. B. Griffin and O. C. Davison to make plans for a mixed bowling league and other sports events for the coming season.

Mrs. O. C. Davison was appointed publicity chairman.

Mrs. Werner Schettling, Mrs. Jack Akerly and Mrs. O. C. Davison were asked to make arrangements for the August meeting which will be a picnic August 29 at Bloomer State Park, Rochester.

The Twenty-Plus Club, although a comparatively new organization, is growing rapidly and is looking forward to a successful fall and winter with a varied and interesting program of activities.

Eighteen Initiated As Charter Members

ANN ARBOR—Eighteen graduate students at the University of Michigan were initiated this week as charter members of the University's chapter of Delta Pi Epsilon, an honor society for students in business education.

Among the graduate students initiated was Dorothy Lunger of Birmingham.

Installation of the chapter was a feature of the annual Summer Education Conference at the University, and the national president of the society, Dr. Earl Dickerson, president of Illinois State Teachers college, officiated at initiation ceremonies.

...Peeking 'cross the hedge!

HOW frequently folks "compare notes" after a successful occasion at someone else's home—noting the gracious good taste of the drinkware and the dinnerware, the smartness and the correctness of it all.

Chances are such hostesses have given far more than cursory study to the drinkingware and diningware which adds so much pleasure to these occasions. It might be called "background," true, but actually drinkingware and diningware are so foregrounded that the successful hostess makes certain she is one who causes guests to "peek 'cross the hedge" and take note.
