Proceeds Of Variety Show Near $1200

Ticket sales for Baldwin's variety show, under the supervision of Harold Newcomb, were very successful with 85 students selling over 2,000 reserved seats for approximately $1,200.

Each student was credited with half the price of each rush ticket sold toward the cost of his Washington trip.

Leading ticket sales was Jim Holden with 760 tickets followed by several others who sold 50 or 60 apiece.

Sports Showup

By Bill Shallberg

Lettersmen from the ranks of football, baseball, track and cross country will be graduating this January.

Leon Thurston, Pete Greig, Ernie Anderson, Roland Watson, Herb Tewilliger, Bill Boushager, and Stan Boynton are the gridiron; will be missed next fall when cross country resumes after graduation.

Hugh Morrow and Jack Neill will be missed next fall when cross country rolls around. The track team will be hard hit by the loss of Roland Watson, Stan Boynton and Pete Greig.

Many Lettermen in Small Class

The baseball diamond will be minus Leon Thurston and Ernie Anderson when practice starts in the spring.

Roger Reynolds, free throw champ of '45, will finish his basketball playing this January as he also graduates. These losses are justified inasmuch as this is a very high per cent of lettermen for a small mid-year class.

Pontiac Outplays Barnum

Basketball practice has been in full swing at Barnum for over a month. A practice game was held with Pontiac. Barnum was outclassed all the way and lost, but the team is waiting to compete in the newly organized Little Oak League.

The chancel choir will consist of the middle room, and the balcony choir of the lower and upper rooms.

Art work is being directed by Mrs. Eva Johnson, acting by Mrs. Margaret Sawyer, and music by Mrs. Muriel Shepherd.

The ice has frozen over again. Now it doesn't snow before Christmas, our faith in Garry Claus will be completely lost and won't be regained unless he brings that pair of skates.

BALDWIN HIGHLIGHTS

Here's your star reporter again ready to give you the dope of the week end.

Friday night after the final performance of "Turnabout," the whole cast was invited to an open house at Lois Burton's. By the looks of the cars lined up and the way the place was jumping, all 375 people must have shown up.

Clustering around the piano while Steve Campbell and Jack Moses played alternately were Kit Schiefele, Ed Beatty, Nancy Holmes, Joan Joslyn, Jack McBride, Barb Strohle, Don Runkel, Barb Kelly and many, many more.

Over in another corner were Jack Hardy, Bruce Smiley and Betty Valle in a snappy bridge game. To name a few, Margaret Erwin, Jim Holden, Dorothy Filkins, Don Plant, George Pope, Nancy Dalton, Joe Bowen and Betty Costello were playing bridge, dancing, or just milling around.

Say, have you been over to Quanton Lake? Annie went over Sunday with her skates 'n things only to see hundreds more enjoying the ice.

Seems like everyone must have been too busy to do much of anything Saturday.

However, in almost Bill Daeschner, Tom Cookery, Jack Daeschner, Tom Hubbard and Walley Roy had dates with Lucy Bennett, Marys Horne, Laurel Walsh, Jo Kates and Joyce Fairbanks to take in a play in Detroit.

Don't leave that Christmas shopping until Tuesday!

Bye now, Amie.

Christmas Assembly Features Carols By High School Choir

The annual Christmas assembly, with the choir singing carols under the direction of Victor Ulich, will be presented Friday afternoon, Dec. 20, at Baldwin.

Carols will include "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones"; "This Day We Sing of Our Saviour's Birth"; "Merry Old Christmas"; "American Carol"; "When Angels Sing of Peace"; "Tom Waring"; "When Bells"; "Leontovich"; "Twas the Night Before Christmas"; "Clement Morre and Ken Darby."

Jerry Neff will play a piano solo and Edward Golden, Ferrdale high school student, will play several pieces on his marimbaphone. Edward was here last year for a band assembly.

A modern dance under the direction of Miss Alice Beck will be performed by Nancy Bell, Betty Costello, Alice Grant-Walters, Mary Ann Nixon, Lois Burton, Florence Bassett and Mary Lois Cole.

The program was planned by Ruth Kadell and Kay Bates.

A new wire cutter also serves as a attachment, pliers, staple puller, pliers or hammer.

Turnabout' Cast Enjoys Open House

After the final performance of Baldwin's variety show, "Turnabout," Miss Lois Burton, 220 Gwynn, gave an open house at her home for the cast and friends.

Over 275 people attended the party. Fruit punch and sandwiches were served.
