best to our friends

How well we remember those old Fashioned Christmas dinners—

father at one end of the table; mother at the other end, and the children in between, wondering if father would ever get done carving the turkey. And what mince pies! Wouldn't you like a Christmas like that this year of 1946? We hope that your Christmas is as much like that as the changing times will permit, and that all the joys of the old days will abound.

Roberta Keppel Wed Saturday to Pennsylvanian

Christmas greens and decorations were used throughout the Christmas wedding Saturday at high noon at which Sally Ann Charles J. Keppel, residence on Harmon avenue, for the informal candlelight ceremony which united in marriage Roberta M. Keppel and Robert O. Hancox late Saturday afternoon.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles J. Keppel and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hancox of Reading, Pa. are the parents of the groom. The Rev. Father pastor of the First United Community Church of Detroit, was the officiating minister.

Preceding the rites, at which only members of the immediate families were in attendance, members of the a cappella choir of the Detroit church, presented the "Lord's Prayer," by Mallette Dies.

Mrs. Allen A. Rogers of Detroit was her sister's only attendant, and serving the groom as best man was Allan A. Rogers.

Following the service a buffet luncheon was served. After a visit to the Hancox home in Reading, Pa., the couple will motor through the East and South, to return to the University of Michigan, where both are attending the Law School.

In June the groom is to receive his degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence, and at the present time is associate editor of the Michigan Law Review and Chancellor. He is a member Phi Delta national legal fraternity, while the new Mrs. Hancox is affiliated with Kappa Beta Pi, a national legal sorority.

There are still in excess of 2,250,000 names on Federal civilian payrolls, compared with approximately 900,000 as recently as 1939.

Merry Christmas

The story behind Christmas is one that has given the Yule holiday force and direction for over a thousand years. Hearts are made over on this day.

It gives us great pleasure during this holy season to extend our best Christmas wishes to all our friends.

Knox-Farquhar Wedding Rites Read At High Noon Ceremony

The chance of Christ Church Cranbrook was the scene of the Christmastide wedding Saturday at high noon at which Sally Ann Charles J. Keppel, residence on Harmon avenue, for the informal candlelight ceremony which united in marriage Roberta M. Keppel and Robert O. Hancox late Saturday afternoon.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles J. Keppel of Lake Park drive, while the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Rowlock McLean Knox, also of Lake Park drive. The Rev. Charles H. Cadigan was the officiating minister.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in candlelight satin. The long, fitted bodice had a low scalloped neckline filled in with illusion, and the full skirt fell into a train. The sleeves of the gown were long ending in points over the wrists. The bride's full-length veil of rose-velvet lace over illusion fell from the mantilla over her head. She carried a white satin-covered heirloom prayer book, on which rested white orchids.

Grechen Sue Farquhar, as her sister's maid-of-honor, wore a blue nylon satin, fashioned with brief sleeves on the fitted bodice, a sweetie neckline, and a full skirt. On her head she also wore a fluted halo of horsehair braid, matching her gown, trimmed with satin ribbon. She carried a bouquet of pink camellias and wore long gloves of the same shade.

Best man was Frederick C. Booth of Bloomfield Hills, and among the guests were Louis Farquhar of Birmingham, the bride's brother, and William Bowen of Ann Arbor, brother-in-law of the groom.

After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served to members of the immediate families and close friends of the bride and groom at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

For her daughter's wedding.

Bloomfield Open Hunt Has Yule Games Party

Christmas decorations were in order last Thursday for the games party which followed dinner held at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club.

C. G. Eden and C. E. Carey were responsible for the arrangements for that evening, which included the dinner served at 7:30 p. m. and the games which began at 9.

Among the many couples who held reservations for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Washburne Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Mattie, and Mrs. E. E. Fisher, the W. O. Briggs, Jr., and the William O. Bridges.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Candler, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. James Ver-nor and the Charles Fierces.

Glad Noel

Rotary Stage Christmas Breakfast

The Rotary Anns enjoyed their traditional Christmas breakfast at the Community House Monday, Dec. 14.

Gifts were brought by the members to be sent to the Waves, Waves and Nurses who are patients at Percy Jones Hospital.

Mrs. Lloyd S. Linton, program chairman, presented Virginia Shipley of Detroit as guest speaker. Her topic was "Christmas around the World." Mrs. Shipley stressed the need of expressing good will and faith in each other throughout the entire year.

Christmas is here!

Peace and Good Will

Lighting the way to better fellowship and good will towards all is Christmas. That it may be a truly happy Christmas for each of you is our ardent wish.
