Annual Tea For Seniors, Parents To Be On Jan. 27

The tea honoring all January graduating seniors and their parents will be held Sunday afternoon, Jan. 27, from 2:30 to 4:30 o'clock at the Community House.

A committee of mothers is attending to all the arrangements with Mrs. Enterson acting as general chairman. Serving with her

Mrs. Ames Gregory, Mrs. Charles Butters, Mrs. Manly Tyson, Mrs. John Marts and Mrs. Jack Chapman.

The tables will be decorated in the class colors of red and white. During the tea symphony recordings will be played.

Bring Christmas Cards

The "Save the Children" Federation has asked all students in Birmingham High School to bring any old Christmas cards they do not want. These cards will be made into books to entertain and instruct European children as no schools have been started as yet.

Junior Seniors to Present Their Annual Swing Out Assembly at Auditorium, Friday

Appearing for the first time in their maroon and white caps and gowns, Junior seniors will present their Swing Out Assembly in Baldwin auditorium tomorrow morning. The class will march into the auditorium to "Pomp and Circumstance." Bob Tyson will introduce Ross Wagner, Baldwin's principal, who will tell of various honors individual students have earned.

The class will be read by Nancy Allen. Following a review will tell what the class has done in Baldwin. Jim Hoppe, as a magician, will introduce short acts depicting class activity.

Nancy Annan will play a piano solo, "Deep Purple"; Neil Spicer will present an arrangement of "Begin the Beguine." A band composed of graduating seniors will play two selections. Everyone in the class is to participate in the assembly.

The second half hour of the assembly will be a take-off on the Hermit's Cave radio program.

BALDWIN HIGHLIGHTS

Hi Kids!

Having a last big fling before final exams, the bobby Sox contingent filled the week end with fun and excitement.

Most annual recreation of the week was the dashing ride in a go-home open sleigh. Greta Seaborn, Drayton McClelland, Margie Horn, and Ronny Rander were the lucky kids to go skimming over the snow Saturday night, which really was a cold winter's eve.

In their second childhood—at least that's what they like to call it—Lewis Booth, Grace Mack, Nancy Doddie, Mary Welch and Helen Mack went to the movie Saturday afternoon equipped with candy bars and peanuts to give them new strength after swooning over Frankie.

That night Dottie Adams, Chuck Dunn, Ruth Adams and Jack Appel went to the same movie to find out what all that screaming was about.

Stalking through some nearby woods, Charles DeLo and Bill Saffell hunted all day Saturday while Ted Herbst, Johnny Bloomston, Chuck Huff, Johnny Anderson, Alan Joslyn, Hank Price, "Doc" Plant and Don McConkie chucked up some mighty bowling scores.

Don't burn too much midnight oil.

Annie.

Plan Basketball Assembly Jan. 23rd

The annual basketball assembly at Baldwin is set for next Wednesday, Jan. 23, in the gym. Coach Lloyd A. Cooper is planning to have his squad demonstrate some of the offensive and defensive tactics which have brought the squad its early season success.

It will be a morning assembly, offering a little diversion during exam week, and giving students a chance to see the boys in slow motion showing how the various plays work.

Taking part in the assembly will be Chuck Murray, Leon Thurston, Dick Deescher, Bud Gasser, Ed Davey, Gene Sutton and Dan Grigg.

Bloomfield Hills School Activities Attracting Attention

The junior class is planning an informal dance called the "Junior Jump" which is to be presented on Jan. 26 in the BHHS auditorium. For the first time the Bloomfield Hills boys have entered into basketball competition. Equivocal not having a regular gym to practice in, the boys are doing a wonderful job. The games are played Wednesdays at the Clawson High School.

The Dramatics Club has chosen a play and they are now planning to present it some time in February.

IS PUBLIC EDUCATION COLLAPSING?

An exhaustive study by Allen Shoenfield of The Detroit News staff reveals an alarming situation in Michigan.

Teachers are leaving, buildings are deteriorating. From one-room schoolhouse to state university, education is being starved by neglect, lack of funds and political scheming. Education is at a crisis.

What are you going to do about it? First, read the Shoenfield articles. Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, says: "I think this is the best popular exposition of the school problem I have ever seen in print."
