Mary Ann Hale's Betrothal Is Told on New Year's Eve

On the stroke of midnight, guests at Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Hale's New Year's Eve party learned of the betrothal of Mary Ann's sister, Mary Ann, to Charles J. Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Reynolds of Bellemeade avenue. The party took place at the Hale home on Brookdale lane, Lincoln Heights. Mary Ann is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Hale of Merrill street and of William Hale of Laidley City, Mich.

The climax to the holiday festivities came with the midnight buffet supper, served in the reception room. The lace covered table was centered with a huge cake, decorated with green and yellow icing, surrounded with evergreens, and flanked with tall yellow tapered crystal holders. The names "Mary Ann and Chuck" were written across the cake with yellow icing and the shape of an engagement ring was also done in the same shade of icing. Napkins, bearing the names of the engaged couple in gold, were also placed on the table.

In a clock struck the hour of twelve, various colored balloons, which hung from the ceiling, were broken and showers of streamers, paper, with the engagement news told in poetry, drifted to the floor.

The bride-elect, Margaret and Vivian Hale; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Elmore and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Littlejohn; a cousin, Edna W. Bonnie Crawford, Dossie Barton and Dorothy Hunter.

Mary Ann and Chuck are making plans for an early spring wedding.
